PROBE IN SOUTH TO GO ON

Several Indictments Returned in Los Angeles and Partial Report Is Made

Evidence of Dynamite Plot Is Found in East and One Man Is Jailed

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—When the federal grand jury re-assembled today after the holiday recess it became evident that the inquisitors, instead of closing the dynamite conspiracy investigation at once, would continue to probe for some time longer.

Before resuming the dynamite inquiry the grand jury made a partial report to United States District Judge Olin Wellborn containing two indictments. One of the indictments is against Antonio Seliz, a former government official of Lower California, who was arrested in San Francisco recently on the charge of having smuggled in Chinese. The other bill is against a Los Angeles man who has not yet been arrested.

Paul Scharenburg, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, was the only witness heard by the grand jury. He was in the jury room only a few minutes and after a conference with one of the government attorneys the grand jury adjourned until tomorrow morning.

It was learned that six additional subpoenas had been issued during the holiday recess, all for persons residing in or near Seattle. One of the summons was for George Haley, business agent of the Pile Drivers' union of Seattle.

The other five were to be served on members of the union, a selection in which Captain and Schmidt, alleged confederates of James B. McNamara in the destruction of the Times building, were said to have taken refuge for a time following the explosion here. Haley, according to messages received here, is in Canada, and consequently has not been served with the federal subpoena.

Soon after leaving the grand jury chamber, Scharenburg said that he had an altercation with Oscar Lawler, special government investigator. Scharenburg declared Lawler had tried to bull doze him when he was called in the prosecutor's office and that he had retorted that Lawler could not use such tactics on him.

The disagreement was over Lawler's alleged order that Scharenburg produce certain books of the federation for the inspection of the grand jury, and although the secretary of the labor federation hesitated for a while, he finally went back to his hotel and returned to the grand jury with the volumes.

LEADERS READY.
With labor leaders subpoenaed ten days ago still not called to testify, but ready to go before them, the members of the federal grand jury, following their Christmas vacation, were prepared today to resume their probe of the alleged dynamite conspiracy. Olat A. Tveitmo, Anton Johansson, E. A. Clancy, Eric B. Morton and Mrs. Morton of San Francisco; J. E. Munroe of Salt Lake City; E. J. Hendricks, W. J. Leary and J. W. Cowles of Los Angeles, and John R. Harrington of Chicago, who was at work in Los Angeles several months as an attorney for the McNamara brothers, were expected to arrive today, prepared to testify before the jurors. It was said he had not only been subpoenaed.

A. E. Yoell of San Francisco, secretary of the Asiatic Exclusion League, of which Tveitmo is president, was scheduled to arrive today, prepared to testify before the jurors. It was said he had not only been subpoenaed.

ILDA LA FEVER STICKS TO KIDNAPING STORY AND AUTOMOBILE TRIP

MISS ILDA LA FEVER.

AGAIN TELLS OF ABDUCTION BY SLAVERS

Knows Nothing of What Happened in the Journey

ALAMEDA, Dec. 27.—Ilda La Fever, the 14-year-old heroine of a lurid tale of kidnaping, who returned home yesterday evening after an absence of two nights and two days, is apparently none the worse today for her adventure, being up and about the Le Fever home at 2105 Lincoln avenue.

With a smiling face she revealed her identity readily and told the story of her amazing adventures. She declared that she knew absolutely nothing of what happened to her from the time she was put into the big touring car in East Oakland at 7:10 Sunday night until she was restored to consciousness in a vacant room at 11:45 on Monday night.

The girl says that she was picked up at Sixteenth street and Thirteenth avenue by six men in a big auto, the rear part of which was inclosed like a taxi. She declares not a word was spoken to her, that a sack of some sort was thrown over her head and that she straightaway lost consciousness until she came to in a bare room without a stick of furniture in it. She says if she was drugged with liquor, given chloroform or ether, or knocked unconscious with a club, that she did not know of it. She maintains stoutly she does not know whether the auto proceeded towards Oakland or turned around, or whether it crossed the bay on a ferry boat.

When she came to in the room the girl declares her hat and sweater were in another corner of the bare room and she

GIBRALTAR, Dec. 27.—The German steamer Chios foundered with nearly all hands during the recent storm in the Bay of Biscay. The Chios, belonging to the German Telefunken line, was proceeding from Hamburg to Alexandria last Thursday when she was caught in the hurricane and sank with all but two of her crew. The first officer and one sailor were rescued by a passing vessel. The Chios was built in Hamburg in 1891 and registered 2059 tons net.

IMPERIAL COURT TO QUIT

Members Signify Willingness to Agree to Abdication of Chinese Throne

Revolutionists Shy at Accepting Plan Offered by Yuan Shi Kai

PEKING, Dec. 27.—The Empress Dowager, Ye Ho Na La, has summoned leading princes of the imperial clan to meet Premier Yuan Shi Kai to discuss the proposal made at the Shanghai conference. It is considered not improbable that Yuan will endeavor shortly to withdraw from active politics.

PEKING, Dec. 27.—Representative members of the imperial court, according to an authoritative source, have signified to Premier Yuan Shi Kai their willingness to agree to an abdication.

The court, the same authority states, realizes that there is no hope for it in the detention of three or four detached sections of the country and semi-loyal provinces, and hopes to obtain better terms by agreeing to the proposed referendum on the question of the form of government.

Premier Yuan Shi Kai fully realized that the republican spokesmen gathered at the peace conference at Shanghai are not likely to accept his proposition for a carefully elected assembly representing the entire empire. He is of the opinion that the republicans know the throne will favor his (Yuan Shi Kai's) plan.

SURE OF VICTORIES.
The premier is certain that he could win several battles with the modern army at his disposal, which is being equipped and greatly superior to the regular force, but as he is unable to obtain any loans he would be unable to re-conquer the lost provinces.

Yuan Shi Kai probably will resign his office after making the best terms possible for the throne.

Yuan Shi Kai regrets what he considers to be Tang Shao Yi's desertion.

INSIDE OF MERGER TOLD

Veeder Again Takes Stand in Hearing of Case Against Meat Men

$500,000,000 Combination of Packers Planned by Armour and Swift

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Albert Veeder, attorney for Swift & Company, continued his recital on the witness stand of the inside history of the packers' combination when court convened today in the beef trust case.

The only name by which the old packers' pool, which held secret meetings prior to 1903 was known, was "Postoffice Box No. 247," according to counsel. This mysterious gathering, which the government asserts sought to fix the price of meats and suppress competition at weekly meetings in the Veeder offices, had no name which Veeder, in his early examination, could remember.

Further details of the old association of packers which projected a combination with $500,000 capitalization which was balked through the failure of eastern bankers to loan $150,000 were expected to develop.

Pierce Butler, special counsel for the government, questioned Mr. Veeder regarding the agreement entered into in 1902 between the Armour, Swift and Morris interests to form a $500,000,000 merger of packing companies.

BOOKS EXAMINED.
The witness said that an elaborate examination of the packers' books was made by expert accountants and the properties appraised by a committee of experts, consisting of Thos. Connors, Thos. E. Wilson and Horace C. Gardner.

"Was the appraisal of these properties ever made?"

"I think the work was completed, but no final report was ever made," was the answer.

Veeder said that under the merger agreement each of the contracting parties was required to turn over at least 30 per cent of the stock of the concerns in accordance with the proposed consolidation.

The witness produced the contracts by Armour, Swift and Morris in June,

MRS. SMITH FACES GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

Court intimates case will be dismissed

MRS. RUTH C. SMITH, who made peace with her husband after he had accused her of stealing $1900.

HUSBAND LEADS WIFE BEFORE JUDGE

"We Have Kissed and Made Up," He Tells the Police

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Ruth Smith, wife of Walter Smith, an employee of the Western Pacific Company, who, deserting him, went to Los Angeles, taking $1900, the savings of years, must face a charge of grand larceny as the result of a decision by Police Judge Shortall this morning. The court, however, intimated that he would allow the case to be dismissed tomorrow after the regular formalities had been gone through with.

Walter Smith, the husband, who went to Los Angeles and effected a reconciliation, bringing his wife home with him, appeared in court today and asked for the dismissal. Judge Shortall declared that he could not take any action until Mrs. Smith was regularly arrested and booked on the charge of grand larceny on the warrant that had been sworn out for her arrest. Accordingly she will be brought to the city prison later in the day, and released on bail, and the matter be further heard tomorrow.

Arm in arm, Smith and his beautiful young bride, formerly of Denver, walked into the Central police station yesterday afternoon and the groom told Captain Wall that he desired to have the charge of grand larceny withdrawn.

"We have kissed and made up," explained the husband, who is employed in the engineering department of the Western Pacific. They were told that they would have to go before the court before which the warrant was obtained to have it annulled and the wife, tugging

LAFOLLETTE IS CAMPAIGNING IN OHIO

Battle Against the Re-nomination of Taft Begins

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 27.—The real battle of the so-called progressive wing of the Republican party against the re-nomination of President Taft, started today with the coming of Senator Robert La Follette to Ohio for speeches here and at Cleveland.

The progressive movement and what it has done in Wisconsin were discussed by the senator at a noonday meeting of business men of this steel and iron community. He was repeatedly cheered.

La Follette declared the progressive movement was a people's movement, a people's cause, and that it took root in the granger movement of the Northwest, asserting that "today the justice, the wisdom, the economic soundness of every Wisconsin law to which the progressive movement gave being, has conquered opposition and compelled the approval of every American community."

"The nation has profited by Wisconsin's civil evolution," Mr. La Follette declared, and continued: "It is not claimed for the progressive view in Wisconsin that it has attained its final destiny, that it has settled all of the questions that vex and trouble thoughtful people everywhere and cause unrest even among the poor and rich, but we do know that we have achieved certain things."

PREDICTIONS PROVE FALSE.
"We do know that the dire and awful predictions which alarmed honest men in Wisconsin have proven false; that capital has not fled from the State, but is more secure than elsewhere; that the State banks, subject to State regulation, are safe, and failure is unknown; that the street car, the interurban, the gas, electric light and water rates are undergoing regulation and reduction and yet, be-

Alameda Woman Among Victims of Collision Which Occurred Near Stege

Coach Takes Open Switch and Plunges Into Work Train on Siding

RICHMOND, Dec. 27.—As the result of a collision between a Richmond-Oakland street car and a work train this afternoon four persons were seriously injured. They are:

E. W. GATES of San Francisco.

EARL WAGNER of San Francisco.

MRS. SHIPMAN of Alameda.

JOHN C. SEMITE of Richmond.

Car No. 54, returning from Oakland, in charge of Motorman R. Higgins and Conductor C. Hunt, went into an open switch at East Shore Park and ran into the work train of which John Semite was the motorman, almost demolishing the work train and damaging the passenger car to the extent of $750.

Among those who were the most seriously injured were E. W. Gates, who received serious lacerations about the chest and head, Wagner, who was lacerated about the head and hands with glass and Mrs. Shipman received serious internal injuries. John Semite received a broken arm and was cut around the head and breast with glass.

Street Car Hurls Coffin From Hearse

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—A hearse bearing the body of Mrs. Barbara Rogoli, 20 years old, wife of Nicholas Rogoli, a wealthy Greek merchant of 1651 Seventh avenue Oakland, was demolished by a collision with a street car at Sixteenth and Howard street this morning. The coffin was hurled to the street and broken open. It was necessary to remove the body to the undertaking parlors of Bunker and Lunt, where a new casket was supplied. The driver of the hearse, Thomas Kenny, employed by McCaffery's stables, was painfully injured and was taken to his home.

Mrs. Rogoli died at a local sanatorium on Sunday and the funeral services were held this morning from the Greek church at Seventh and Howard street. The procession was winding its way out Howard street with Mount Olivet cemetery at its destination when a Sixteenth street car, speeding along on the slipper rail, crashed into the hearse. The vehicle was completely wrecked and the casket thrown to the street. A robe was thrown over the broken coffin and a new hearse sent for.

According to information thus far received failure of the brake of the car to work caused the accident.

Broadway Ground Has Been Transferred

With the placing on record today of nineteen separate documents, the transfer of the property bounded by Broadway Webster and Twenty-fourth streets from a number of individuals and estates, was made to the trustees of the First Methodist Church, the total consideration to the land being $80,400.

Architects are now at work upon plans for an edifice which will cost $150,000 when completed. By the transfer today the way is now made clear for the trustees to go ahead and let the various contracts and as soon as the architects have submitted their complete plans, construction will commence. For some time the matter has been held up pending the clearance of title to the property, but the feature will no longer act as a hindrance.

She used a revolver belonging to her brother. She left a note saying:

"I am tired of this sort of life."

Russia Aims Exclusion Bill At Citizens of America

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 27.—A supplementary legislative proposal of a frankly prohibitive character was introduced by the Nationalists into the Duma today. It is aimed directly at the United States. According to its terms American citizens of the Jewish religion are to be totally excluded from Russia and in the place customs duties are to be raised by 100 percent unless the Russian normal schedule is lower than the American. It is that case a duty equaling the American duty will be collected. The author of the bill states that the last provision is necessary in order to deal with the importation of American industrial machinery.

COLD WAVE GRIPS ENTIRE COUNTRY

Rain Begins to Fall in Bay Cities While Snow Piles Up in Middle-West

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Coming as a welcome boon to the farmer, the first southeaster of the season swept over the bay cities this morning and a downpour of rain, which promises to last throughout today and tomorrow, was the result. The storm, which originated on the Washington coast, is general throughout the central and northern counties of the State and will reach the southern counties tomorrow. It will banish the frost in the south, and will be hailed with great delight by fruit-growers.

The storm warnings were all displayed from Point Lobos, north, and the coming of the rain was well heralded. There will be heavy snow in the north and on the mountains and the storm will extend to the eastern borders of the state. Forecaster Alexander McAlede predicts plenty of rain for some time to come.

ORANGE CROP THREATENED.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—With the thermometer registering but 16 degrees above zero in many localities, the orange crop is seriously threatened from the frosts and during the last two nights growers in Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties have been kept busy with the smudge pots endeavoring to drive away the frost that would put a blight upon thousands of dollars worth of the fruit.

The weather has been the coldest in many years. Frost-bitten fruit has been reported in many localities. Even at Redlands 24 degrees were recorded while in the vicinity of Bryn Mawr the freeze has been a hard one. Near Pomona, Rialto and in the highland district, growers have attended their pots for several nights and in many instances their work has been effective in saving considerable damage.

In their homes, ill prepared for withstanding such a change in temperature, people within the radius of several hundred miles are shivering with the cold. The snap in temperature, while not causing much real suffering has been a source of considerable discomfort, and those who can afford it are taking to the large hotels where they may enjoy steam heat.

LAKE REGION SWIFT.
CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—A cold wave from the northwest has caught the lake region. Since yesterday noon the temperature here has fallen from 41 to 22 degrees above zero. The weather bureau says the temperature probably would fall ten degrees more before tomorrow.

Heavy snows are reported in Wisconsin and parts of Michigan. In the Canadian Northwest the temperature ranges from 2 to 26 degrees below zero. Reports from northwestern states show the range to be from 6 above to 14 below zero.

FIANCEE OF PASTOR TO DO SETTLEMENT WORK

BOSTON, Dec. 27.—It became known here today that Miss Violet Edmands, the Brookline heiress who was engaged to marry the Rev. C. V. T. Richeson, has left her home to become a settlement worker in New York. Miss Edmands was formerly active in charitable work in Brookline. The announcement that she is now doing settlement work in New York came from a close friend of the family.

PREDICTED PANIC STOPPED PLANS FOR BIG MERGER

Attorney Veeder Reveals More of Inside History of Projected Combine

1902, for the purchase of six competing companies prior to the organization of the National Packing Company. The concerns acquired by the combination at that time were: The United Dressed Beef Company of New York, the Fowler Packing Company, the Anglo-American Provision Company, the Omaha Packing Company and the St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provision Company.

PURCHASES NOT MADE.

The witness said the combination began negotiations for the purchase of Schwarzchild and Sulzberger in the merger, but the purchase was never made.

"In July, 1902, Michael Cudahy became a party to the agreement for the merger, and the Cudahy Packing Company was taken into the combination," said Veeder.

The Government brought out that all the contracts for the purchase of competing concerns contained a clause which prohibited the persons making the sale from engaging in the packing business for fifteen years after the date of the sale.

Veeder produced a copy of the agreement of November 15, 1902, made by the combination promising the merger for a loan of $90,000,000 for Kuhn, Loeb & Company of New York by Jacob H. Veeder.

"This agreement was made after negotiations between the parties, which lasted through the summer of 1902," said Mr. Veeder. "Kuhn, Loeb & Co. said the packers could have the money under certain conditions and finally the terms were decided on. When it came time to close the deal and get the $90,000,000, Jacob H. Veeder, manager for Kuhn, Loeb & Co., scented the panic which came a year later and the whole deal was declared off."

DESCRIBES ORGANIZATION.

The witness described the organization of the National Packing Company, March 18, 1903, with a capital stock of $15,000,000 which the Government contends has been used by the packers' combination to continue the old price fixing pool which previously existed. The contract for the organization for the National Packing Company was probed by Government counsel.

Another agreement, introduced was dated July 11, 1902, and provided for a loan of $5,000,000 to Arthur M. Swift & Morris by the First National Bank of New York.

An agreement dated December 19, 1902, was read which provided for a loan of $15,000,000 by Kuhn, Loeb & Company, James Stillman and E. H. Harriman to Arthur M. Swift and Morris for use in financing the National Packing Company.

When Michael Cudahy was taken into the combination of the organization of the proposed big company a new agreement was drawn and signed by Arthur M. Swift, Morris and Cudahy, and each deposited $100,000 in a Chicago bank as evidence of good faith," said Veeder.

These deposits were later withdrawn, when the organization of the company was abandoned. The Government introduced this agreement in evidence after the document had been read to the jury.

MRS. SMITH HELD ON THEFT CHARGE

Husband Has Forgiven Her and Thought Police Judge Will Do Likewise.

at her husband's coat sleeve, led him away.

HER VIEWPOINT.

When arrested in Los Angeles Saturday Mrs. Smith said:

"My husband charges me with grand larceny? Well, I always understood that what belonged to a man was equally his wife's property. All I have to say is that when the proper time comes I'll tell my side of the story. And, believe me, I've got a side. I had a motive in doing what I have done. Incidentally, I've had a good time during the three days I've been in Los Angeles."

When told of the statement made by her husband that he had saved the money to buy a cigar and was "looking forward to the business venture as a means of more happiness for them, she said:

"He said that, did he? He said that he was the one who saved the money? Well, it's his turn to talk just now. No woman does what I have done without good reason. I won't say whether he saved the money alone or I helped him. But when they take me back to San Francisco I'll say something that will give this situation its proper place."

"Did your husband abuse you?" was asked.

WALTER CHAMPIONED.

"Oh, my, Walter wouldn't do that," she answered quickly. "But there were some things between us it would not be wise for me to explain just now."

"Serious differences?" she was questioned.

"Serious to us; but they involved no one else. I've been asked if I wasn't accompanied here by another man. It's positively insulting to answer, chokingly. Oh, please go away and don't ask me any more."

"Is your husband's statement correct with reference to how you got the money?" was the next question asked by the police.

"Why, my dressing bag. That's foolishness. I secreted part of it in my clothes and deposited the rest in a box and hid it. I suddenly caught herself and bit her lip.

GUARDS HER ANSWERS.

Her answers were more guarded after that. Once she brightened up surprisingly and asked if there were any newspaper dispatches from San Francisco concerning additional statements made by her, and receiving a negative reply, said:

"Walter always knew when he had talked enough."

Attempts to break down Mrs. Smith's guard by disparaging her husband got the detectives nothing. Her replies remained as guarded as ever, and not the two had quarreled, although on several occasions she plainly showed resentment that statements made in San Francisco to the San Francisco police, in a sense derogatory to her, should be used to make her talk. Once she said:

"Walter's all right. He'll understand later."

was shivering with cold. When she put on her sweater she says her watch was still running, though it is improbable that she wound it early Sunday. She says she broke a locked window with her shoe and made her way to the ground by going down a fire escape a little distance and then dropping. She says she met a policeman almost immediately and the policeman took her part way to the ferry and turned her over to a second officer, who left her at the ferry. According to her story she spent half of Monday night and a good share of Tuesday in or about the ferry building.

The girl declares she does not know if the auto was green, red, yellow, gray or black, but knows there were six men in it. She cannot give any description of any of the six men.

The girl looks to be 18 years of age, having the height and weight of full growth, but her mother says she will be 15 years old next March.

The girl said this morning that she worked for three weeks during the Christmas rush in an Oakland store, but said she met no men while living in Oakland and had no men friends. She denied that she was engaged to David Pearson, but said the "poor kid would be worried to death" if he knew what had befallen her or if anyone thought he was implicated. Pearson is a Santa Fe shopman employed in the San Bernardino shops and knew the girl when the Le Fevers lived in San Bernardino.

YUAN'S PLAN NOT FAVORED IN CHINA

Revolutionists Too Impatient to Await Outcome of the Convention.

He suggests that Tang Shao Yi might become president of the republic, which is an office he himself would not accept.

Yuan Shi Kai also regrets that foreign nations have withheld their financial support, with the help of which he could have re-conquered the country.

TOKIO, Dec. 27.—Yuan Shi Kai's proposal to decide the form of government by election today, under the new regime in China by means of a convention of delegates from all over the empire is regarded here as a shrewd move, but opinion is divided as to whether it can be carried out successfully.

Many prominent Japanese believe that the proposal will be accepted by the revolutionary leaders in order to make it easier for Yuan Shi Kai to convince the court that abdication is unavoidable.

On the other hand, many of the well-informed here think that the great body of the revolutionists are too impatient by sales today that he was heartily in favor of the republican form of government for China. The message was in answer to one sent by the Six Companies calling upon the representatives of Premier Yuan Shi Kai to support the republican movement, stating that this was the only form of government wanted by the Chinese in America.

FAVORS REPUBLIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Tang Shao Yi informed the Chinese Six Companies today that he was heartily in favor of the republican form of government for China. The message was in answer to one sent by the Six Companies calling upon the representatives of Premier Yuan Shi Kai to support the republican movement, stating that this was the only form of government wanted by the Chinese in America.

Investigation Into Dynamiting Conspiracy Will Be Carried On Further.

but also ordered to bring with him the books of the league.

RUMORS CURRENT.

Rumors of indictments before the end of the week continued current, despite a report from Indianapolis that any indictments resulting from the government investigation would be issued in that city. A. J. McCormick, United States district attorney, declared "there would be no conflict in the return of indictments if any were forthcoming."

Attorneys for Bert H. Franklin, a detective employed by the McNamara defense, charged with having attempted to bribe and with having bribed jurors in the trial of James B. McNamara, were expected to present their defense when his preliminary hearing in a justice of the peace court was resumed today.

BLAMES OTHERS.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 27.—"I'm going to clear myself. I will not take the blame for this and the rest of them will have to take their medicine along with me," is the utterance today of George Bridges, a stranger arrested at Monahan, Pa., while carrying a suitcase containing sticks of dynamite and a roll of fuse.

Bridges weakened under police questioning and the authorities declared he would make a clean breast of it when a preliminary hearing for a preliminary hearing late this afternoon. Little is known of the man. He appeared at Monahan several weeks ago. Eight thousand non-union men are employed in the mills of the town.

FIND DYNAMITE PLANT.

ROCHESTER, Pa., Dec. 27.—Twenty-four sticks of dynamite, twelve caps wrapped in cotton and ten yards of fuse were found in a case, recently made for the purpose and resembling an ordinary traveling bag, were found in the barns of McDonald and Hartman, dealers in contractors' supplies, owned by Albert Wilhelm, a clerk of the firm's employ.

The find was turned over to the police, who learned that the case also contained a long paper knife, bearing the name of a Philadelphia firm. The police recognized the bag as one they had seen in the hands of a stranger several days ago.

Since the finding of a quantity of explosives near the end of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad bridge across the Ohio river, there have been several months ago, said to have been planted there by agents of the McNamaras, the police have been active and the bridge has been guarded night and day.

FRANKLIN COMMITTED.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—Without attempting a defense, counsel for Bert Franklin, a former investigator for the McNamara brothers, allowed the client to be committed today for trial in the superior court on the charge of having bribed Robert Bain, a sworn juror in the McNamara trial. No bail was fixed, as Franklin already is under $10,000 bond for trial on a charge of having attempted to bribe George Lockwood, a venireman summoned in the McNamara case.

RAILROAD GETS TIME EXTENSION

Extension of time was this morning granted by the city council to the Peninsula railroad company, an auxiliary of the Southern Pacific company, to complete the work of construction on the Eleventh street depot loop of the new electric street car line, the franchise granted by the city. The delay was caused by the action of the city in widening Eleventh street, which has necessitated additional work to the railroad in setting back curbs and making other changes. The extension of time was granted on the recommendation of Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus.

cause we have stability, the bonds of all our public utilities are selling higher in the markets than those of other States; that railroad rates have been reduced; the service regulated; the interests of shippers adjusted; and yet the railroads of Wisconsin are more prosperous than in other States, because a sense of security prevails everywhere, and, as a producer, every manufacturer knows that his competitors within the scope of State regulation enjoy no secret favor or advantage.

"The old feeling of class antagonism and distrust is fast giving place to peace, confidence and prosperity. It was clearly understood at the outset that we were entering on a new era; that the wonderful industrial development of the country had outgrown our statutes and constitution, that the problems were complex and intricate in a high degree, and that they required profound study and research, and the application of the best expert knowledge available.

"Whatever success we have attained in Wisconsin through the enactment of wise constructive statutes, has been the result of a clear and definite comprehension of the importance of the work as affecting not only the material interests of the State, but the sociological welfare of the people, in the broadest application of the term. The conditions which have prevailed in government and business in Wisconsin 15 years ago are those which the people in most States and in the nation are facing today."

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 27.—For several weeks past Phoenix and vicinity has experienced some cold weather, but the climax came last night when the thermometer registered from 13 to 24 degrees for several hours at various places.

That they had suffered comparatively no damage. The navel crop is practically all on the market, but a few of the later varieties were nipped while hanging to branches.

Because of the previous cold weather the sap in the trees had started down and this fact, growers asserted, saved the trees from any serious injury.

Unruly men who raise a general stock report that only the youngest and tenderest of their trees were hurt, but this does not amount to very much in a financial way. The temperatures recorded last night were less than two years ago, when considerable damage was done.

UNCLE SAM TELLS HOW TO DOCTOR SICK BEE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—How to doctor a sick bee can be ascertained by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture for a publication entitled "The Treatment of Bee Diseases."

Many farmers have been losing their colonies of bees, the latest reports showing a loss of 800,000 colonies on the farms of the country. This loss can be checked, the department declares, provided the beekeeper knows how to treat the disease, knowledge of which can be ascertained.

'ABSOLUTELY NO,' SAYS ROOSEVELT

Colonel in Seven-page Letter, Rejects Invitation to Peace Dinner.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The representatives of the peace dinner to be given Saturday night, to which President Taft, leading foreign diplomats, Andrew Carnegie and many others have accepted invitations, sought out Colonel Roosevelt today, it was said to ascertain whether the colonel had such views on questions of peace that he would find it inconvenient to attend the dinner.

Colonel Roosevelt already had been informally interviewed and to that invitation replied in a seven-page letter, which executive committee, declined to make public today.

"Absolutely no, I shall attend no dinner," Colonel Roosevelt declared today after Bloomer had called. Colonel Roosevelt added that the correspondence between himself and Mr. Bloomer on the subject would be made public Saturday.

And some of our oldest colleges still retain their faculties.

New Term Jan. 2, 1911

Students of Heald's have the privilege of transferring from one school to another before a course is finished and employment is secured by the Heald schools in whatever city the student wishes to locate.

We offer to our students strong courses of study, the ablest teachers obtainable and the strength and facilities that come from 49 years of business and educational experience.

The shorthand course or the commercial may either be taken separately, but every student should take the full business course when possible.

The business man no longer has time to educate his employees. They must enter his office ready to render valuable service. Heald's Business College has met this demand for nearly a half century, and it now affords the best means whereby a young man or woman who desires to engage in commercial pursuits can obtain the education or training so essential to their success.

Visitors are always welcomed at our schools. An Illustrated Catalogue will be sent FREE on application.

OPERA HOUSE BURNS; THREE ARE INJURED

LOMPOC, Dec. 27.—Three men were burned and 150 persons had a narrow escape from injury last night when a carbon of a moving picture machine set fire to a photo reel in the opera house here.

Those injured were Joe Worthington, who operated the machine; Erschel Walling, his assistant, and J. O. Walling, manager of the opera house. They were painfully burned in an effort to put out the fire.

The audience stampeded, but the stage manager opened two doors to the rear of the theater and all escaped without serious results.

GRASS VALLEY FREEZING.
GRASS VALLEY, Dec. 27.—Extremely low temperature and lack of snow is threatening the water service ditches throughout the Sierra that supply water and power to many towns and mining industries. Reports are that the ditches are freezing. Last night was the coldest of the season and the mercury will touch 15 degrees above here. Should freezing continue many mills may be forced to close.

COMMITTEE WOULD SAVE U. S. MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The House Committee on Military Affairs will report an appropriation bill carrying from seven to ten million dollars less than last year's bill.

The total appropriation last year was $92,578,825.97. The amount asked by the War Department for the fiscal year 1912, was $96,927,988.98. The saving is to be effected:

By abandoning a large number of small army posts.

By increasing the term of enlistment from three to five years.

By consolidation of the offices and establishments of the quartermaster-general, the commissary-general and the paymaster-general into a single bureau to be known as the chief of the Supply Corps.

WINS DECREE AND ALIMONY.
CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—With her husband's suit for divorce pending in Nevada courts, Mrs. Clara H. Earle yesterday obtained a decree here against John G. Earle, a mining superintendent of Goldfield. She was awarded the family home here and $3000 a year alimony.

WEALTHY FIREMEN WATCH HOUSE BURN

H. T. Bowie's Home Is Threatened; Brave Laddies Were Dressed for Dinner.

SAN MATEO, Dec. 27.—While the members of Hillsboro's hundred-million-dollar fire department, wearing in place of the regulation firemen's uniforms, full dress and tuxedo suits, gazed in open-eyed wonder, flames threatened to destroy the palatial residence of Henry T. Bowie in that exclusive municipality last night. The Japanese servants in the Bowie home, seeking to prevent the spread of the flames to the priceless works of art within the home, formed a bucket brigade, but before they succeeded in checking the flames managed to destroy about $5000 worth of furnishings by throwing water over the walls and floors.

The multi-millionaire fire department members forgot all about their fire-fighting apparatus and it was necessary to send to San Mateo for the fire brigade there to extinguish the flames.

The Bowie conflagration was the center of attraction down the peninsula last night. It took place just at the fashionable dinner hour and attracted automobile loads of sightseers from miles around. More than fifty machines loaded with friends or acquaintances of the Bowie family were drawn up about the house while those who had come to see the blaze talked with the Hillsboro evening-dressed firemen and their neighbors.

The fire itself was a trivial affair. Quite like an ordinary dinner-hour blaze in any ordinary home, it started in the kitchen. Soon it caught the roof, and a good-sized hole was burned through the shingles before the San Mateo firemen arrived and extinguished the flames.

ARMY BIRDMEN MAY COMPETE ACROSS BAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—A report that Army aviators might participate in a San Francisco aviation meet was made at the War Department yesterday by Representative Kahn, who will receive an answer in a few days. The Department's precedents are against granting the request, but an exception may be made on the grounds advanced by Kahn, who pointed out to the officials that every opportunity given the Army aviators to survey the sea coast was of advantage to the Army.

He also said that the proceeds from the meeting will be given partly to the mother of Aviator Ely, recently killed, and partly to a fund for the relief of families of killed or injured aviators. The establishment of such a fund Kahn declared would be an incentive to aviators to develop their science.

NEW FERRYBOAT NEARS COMPLETION

Southern Pacific's Alameda to Slide From Ways First of Year.

Another ferry steamer for San Francisco bay, making three to be constructed by the Southern Pacific company within a year, will glide into the water from the ways on the Oakland estuary shortly after the first of the year. It is to be known as the Alameda and is part of the provision being made by the railroad to care for the increased traffic during the Panama-Pacific International exposition. The railroad company plans to operate a fleet of more than a dozen each way during 1915.

The Alameda is being constructed in the hulls of steel; so is the superstructure frame. The vessel will be slightly smaller than the steamer Berkeley, but will have greater speed. Another characteristic of the Alameda will be two independent compound engines of 1250 horsepower each, located on either side of the boat, one engine for each paddle wheel. The thoroughfare on the main deck will be located in the center of the steamer, and there will be a seating capacity of 2500 persons. All of the interior will be in walnut and teakwood. There will be fourteen eighteen-foot lifeboats, constructed of galvanized iron, located on each end of the steamer. The restaurant and crew's quarters will be located below the main deck.

AMERICAN CATTLE CO. ENTERS BRAZIL

Largest Beef Producing Plant in the World to Be Established There.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—It was news on Wall street today that a combination of American and Canadian capitalists has been formed to establish in Brazil the largest beef producing plant in the world. The syndicate has bought from the Brazilian government nine million acres of excellent breeding lands, where cattle can graze through the entire year without danger from freezing or from storms. The plant will be started with the largest number of cattle possible to buy, and the compactness of the project is fixed at 500,000 head.

Headquarters of the syndicate will be in the city of San Paulo, 250 miles north of Buenos Ayres. The head of the concern is Mardo McKenzie, of Colorado, former president of the National Stockmen's Association, who will receive a salary of $50,000 a year.

PARAGUAY A CATTLE RANGE.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 27.—Paraguay is a country which may come to the front to help hold down the price of beef, according to Mason Peters, son of the ex-Congressman, who is here after returning but recently from South America. Peters says that country is the only big ranch place now left in the world.

It is just like Texas was before the settlers began to raise agricultural products," he said. "The country is the most primitive I have seen. The country has had so many wars that all the men practically have been killed off and the women do what little farming is practiced.

"A plan is forming to take cattle men from this country down there and raise cattle on the same plan that they raised them in this country years ago. There are four big packing plants in Buenos Ayres, but you can't get cheap ranch land in Argentina. There they raise all sorts of stock on a acre for the land. That's civilization. But it isn't so in Paraguay."

SKULL OF LIBERATOR IS STOLEN BY GHOULS

VIENNA, Dec. 27.—The vault in St. Mark's cemetery in which reposed for many years the bones of Kara-George Petrovitch, founder of the Servian dynasty, has been desecrated. The skull of the former Servian chief has been stolen, but the decorations and rings were not touched.

The coffin of Queen Persida was not opened. There is no clew to the desecrations.

Kara-George (Black George, or George Cernoy) was a peasant, born in 1769, who in 1806 became the leader of the Servians in the revolt against Turkey. He defeated the Turks, captured Belgrade and liberated Servia. He was driven out of Servia in 1813 and was murdered in 1817.

Adams was accompanied in court by Rev. John T. Shurtliff, pastor of the Episcopal Church in Eureka, who sat beside him throughout the day. Spectators crowded the court room.

Finance Committee of Chamber of Commerce Makes Its Report.

Financial affairs occupied the attention of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at the last meeting of the present board yesterday afternoon. The report of the chamber's finance committee was made by Chairman Charles F. German and showed that the chamber is in excellent financial condition. On the first of January, 1912, there would appear on the books an apparent deficit of something like $4000, but this would be more than offset by delinquent dues and pledges subject to collection. When the present directors took office, according to the report, in January, 1911, the revenues of the chamber of commerce were not meeting all the expenses of the body, including the special advertising which the chamber was doing. This was in no sense due to the management of the preceding board, but to the fact that the special advertising fund which had been inaugurated in March, 1909, had elapsed and no provision had been made for a new special fund. This advertising amounting to some $250 or $300 a month had been continued in anticipation of the inauguration of another big publicity campaign, which was planned for September of this year. Liabilities had accrued during the current year on account of advertising which would not be paid for until the new members now made possible of settlement. According to the report, the chamber was without revenue except for membership dues from the expiration of the original subscription fund on the first of April, 1910. September 26 of this year, approximately seventeen months. At the present time, however, the increased membership dues received as a result of the recent membership campaign is more than enough to cover the running expenses of the chamber, and the special fund to cover publicity and other special work dating from September, 1910, will place the chamber on a sound financial basis. As a result it is now declared the chamber has an expense account of $1300 a month, with an income in the neighborhood of $2500 per month. The report further shows that the chamber now has something like $1465 in bills to be met as soon as possible. President Capwell suggested that these bills be met from the special fund of $1000 which was set aside for the purpose of meeting the necessary money be borrowed on this fund, he offering to do what he could to secure the loan. This is done the chamber will be entirely free of debt within a few months. On the motion of Director Mackay, seconded by Director Fisher, a resolution was passed that the board and the financial secretary be instructed to note all the items therein on the books. One feature of the report was the statement that the membership of the chamber is 1916.

BUCKMAN DOCKS
AFTER ROUGH RUN

All of 102 Passengers Forced to Remain in Berths During Trip.

At the Long wharf early this morning the Alaskan Pacific passenger and freighter Buckman began discharging five cars of freight and picking up twenty-five cars of merchandise. The vessel comes from Seattle and reports one of the roughest runs of her career. According to Captain Wilson, practically every one of the passengers, numbering 102, were forced to remain under cover for a greater portion of the passage, being laid up with sea sickness. Owing to the strong southeaster which swept the local waterfront today the shipping in the local harbor was considerably hindered by the choppy seas which frequently dashed over the rails of the small craft on the bay. An electric welding barge, belonging to the United Engineering Works, which for the past few days has been moored alongside of the steamer M. S. Dollar at Long wharf, was in danger of foundering this morning. The little barge was moored to the windward of the big steel vessel and each wave as it came along would toss the small craft against the steel plates of the liner until a hurry call was sent for a tug to tow the barge out of danger. DISCHARGING LUMBER. The little steam schooner Daley, Captain Smith, arrived this morning from Willapa harbor and laid at the Hunter Lumber Company's wharf, where she is discharging lumber. The little steamer experienced considerable difficulty in making the run from the port of Willapa, gales and heavy seas being in evidence during nearly the entire passage. Loaded down with lumber until it appeared that she would capsize should she encounter any heavy seas, the little steam schooner Marshfield arrived this morning from Hardy Creek and laid at De Fremery wharf, where she is discharging her cargo of lumber, which is consigned to the Pacific Lumber Company. The Redstack Company's tug, Sea Prince, left the stream this morning with a large coal barge in tow. The big four-masted schooner Forest Home, arrived this morning from Bellingham, Wash., and laid at the E. K. Wood Lumber Company's wharf. The Standard Oil Company's tanker, Petroleum No. 2, left her berth at the United Engineering Works this morning for her maiden trip on the coast petroleum run. The steam schooner Pasadena, Captain McGovern, is at Long Wharf discharging 200,000 feet of lumber.

FLEMING CASE AGAIN
TAKEN UP AT REDDING

REDDING, Cal., Dec. 27.—After a holiday postponement of nearly a week, the Fleming murder trial was resumed today. The defense stated that as all the evidence was in, it was willing to submit the case to the jury without argument. The prosecution objected and District Attorney Chenoweth began the summing up. He will be followed this afternoon by Attorney George Bush for the defense. By previous arrangement with the court the arguments must be completed by Friday night.

DIRECTORS TO PAY
HONOR TO HEARST

Editor Will Be Guest at Banquet Given by World's Fair Board.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—On Wednesday evening of next week a banquet will be given in honor of William Randolph Hearst, under the auspices of the directors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in recognition of the valuable services he has rendered to the exposition cause. The banquet will be held at the Palace hotel, and applications for seats are being received at the exposition building, corner of Pine and Battery streets, where the diagrams of the tables may be seen in the office on the first floor. Seats will be reserved in the order in which mail applications are received, and it is announced that the cost per plate will be $5. In this way it is intended to express to the guest of honor of the evening the gratitude of the exposition management for the assistance rendered by him at the critical times when the fight for the location of the exposition was on in Washington, and by the publicity he has assisted in giving the exposition since the decision of congress to locate it here. The invitation of the directors as it was telegraphed was worded as follows: "The board of directors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, desiring to testify to the valuable aid you have so willingly contributed to the success of the exposition, wish to tender you a public banquet at some time that may be convenient for you. In order to make proper arrangements we would suggest date, Wednesday, January 3, but in this matter be present, Rodney W. Rogers, second vice-president, James H. Fuller, third vice-president, H. M. Fuller, marshal, Beauregard, inside sentinel, William F. de Freytag, outside sentinel, F. J. Sandy, organizer, Charles Thibault, past president, Fred O. Lindemer, trustee, W. A. Blois. Installation ceremony will be held on January 10, 1912, with District Deputy Grand President John L. Flynn presiding. The affair will close with a banquet at which several papers will be read on the early history of California and the significance and proper observance of Admission Day. Through the efforts of Brooklyn Parlor, a bear flag design will be placed in a title, upon Oakland's new city hall, and Commissioner of Public Works Harry E. Anderson, who recently inspected the pattern in Sacramento, states that arrangement will greatly enhance the beauty of the building's exterior decoration. BREAKS PROMISE; DIES. BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 27.—Because he had violated the terms of a suspended jail sentence of six months, given him by Justice Marion for getting drunk and striking his mother-in-law, John Moore, a widower, aged 59 years, shot himself in the head. The sentence was imposed nearly six months ago and Moore had refrained from drink until the extra temptations of the holiday season.

WEDDING BELLS
SCARE HIM AWAY

Andrew Scott Bolts When He Finds Himself Facing Marriage.

When Andrew Scott, 22 years old and a launch engineer, found himself face to face with a wedding ceremony that was calculated to make Isabella Mills, 16 years old, his bride, he was seized with fright and bolted. The sensational incident took place late yesterday in the office of the County Clerk. Leaving Justice of the Peace James G. Quinn, who had been called in to perform the ceremony, and his prospective bride standing in dismay in the registration room, Scott suddenly said, "Wait a minute," bolted through the swinging doors into Broadway with the marriage license he had secured only a few moments before in his pocket. Whatever reason Scott had for abandoning his young sweetheart at the last moment he did not divulge to any one, and the young lady declared that she could not fathom his conduct. Dashing out of the registration room, Scott ran across the street to a saloon at Broadway and Fifth street. Miss Mills followed as far as the entrance to the Hall of Records and saw Scott disappear in the saloon. Her brother met her and she explained to him Scott's conduct. He went to the saloon to bring him back while Miss Mills waited. As the brother entered the saloon Scott dodged him and whizzed through the side door opening upon Fifth street. Then he took to his heels and the last seen of him he turned the corner of Clay street and fled. As he disappeared Miss Mills turned upon her heel with a snarl of rage and said to her brother: "Well, if that's the way he's going to act I don't care. I want nothing more to do with him." Then she went home with her brother and mother, who was also present to see her daughter married.

E. Martin, representative of a San Francisco smelting and refining company, had sought refuge after he had assaulted an annoying vendor of lottery tickets. A dozen mounted policemen and that number of patrolmen hurried to the scene and dispersed the angry mob that had collected.

TOOL STEEL AND

Germany Plans Retaliation On U. S. in Matter of Low Duties.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—If Germany, as reported, intends to refuse American exporters of tool steel and hard rubber the benefit of the low duties on those commodities accorded to Sweden, Japan and recently negotiated trade treaties, the state department has not been informed of that fact. Consequently it has been impossible for the department to make any satisfactory response to various anxious inquirers in the steel and rubber trades. When Germany was accorded minimum tariff rates on her goods entering America, that government agreed to grant American exporters the same treatment on their goods shipped into Germany. So far this agreement has been respected. Germany intends to make an exception now in the case of tool steel and hard rubber, on the ground that America is denying German paper makers free entry for their goods on terms of equality with Canada, there will be nothing for the state department to do, it is clear, but await the issue of the routine proceedings initiated in the appeal of the paper and pulp importers from the decision of the American collectors assessing duties upon German pulp and paper. Meanwhile, the American steel and hard rubber exporters must continue to base on present rates on goods shipped to Germany. That Germany will feel disposed to go further in this matter and extend her policy of retaliation generally to American products is doubted here. The reason for this doubt is that the paper and pulp issue is likely to be settled in the near future. Germany in the admission of her claim to the Canadian preferential rates within the near future.

OPENS CANAL ZONE

President Taft Modifies Order That Would Have Closed Territory.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—President Taft yesterday settled the vexed question of allowing the practice of Christian Science or other non-medical methods of healing the sick in the Panama canal zone. The executive order, made several months ago, which members of the Christian Science church feared would prohibit their method of healing, was modified so that there can be no doubt as to the lawfulness of such practices. The original order provided that any one who wished to practice medicine, surgery, dentistry, pharmacy or midwifery in the canal zone must be licensed by the board of health. As modified by the President, the order shall not be construed "to prohibit the practice of the religious tenets of any church in the administration to the sick or suffering by mental or spiritual means without the use of any drug or material remedy, whether gratuitous or for compensation, provided that such sanitary laws, orders, rules or regulations as now or hereafter may be in force in said canal zone are complied with." The order as modified takes effect January 1. MODIFICATION WAS EXPECTED. BOSTON, Dec. 27.—Alfred Farlow, chairman of the publication committee of the Christian Science church, commenting on the order of President Taft permitting practice by Christian Scientists in the Panama canal zone, said: "We have been of the opinion all the while that President Taft did not realize how stringent the original regulation was, and that when it came clearly to his attention, the proper relief would be forthcoming." Christian Scientist practitioners who are established in the canal zone will resume practice January 1.

PUFFS XMAS PIPE
IN BED; IS DEAD

Two Houses in Ruins as the Result of Aged Cobbler's Carelessness.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—Stephen Carpenter, an aged cobbler, is dead today and two houses are in ruins as the result, the police say, of Carpenter's carelessness. The victim of the fire, while in bed, the victim of the fire, who lived at 2623 Dayton avenue, was an inveterate smoker, said friends, and frequently went to bed with a pipe and smoked himself to sleep. It is thought sparks from Carpenter's pipe put the fire and caused the destruction of his home and the house adjoining.

A. J. ROULSTONE CALLED BY DEATH

Prominent Oakland Pioneer and 49'er Dies at the Age of 83.

Andrew Jackson Roulstone, one of the California pioneers lured to the Pacific coast in 1849 by the call of the newly discovered gold mines, died at his home, 1246 Hopkins street, this city, late yesterday afternoon after a long illness.

For twenty-five years Roulstone had been a resident of Oakland and was 83 years old at the time of his death. Although not actively engaged in business during his long residence in this city, he always was deeply interested in civic affairs in so far as they affected his adopted city, and was considered one of Oakland's prominent men.

Roulstone was born in Charlestown, Mass., and belonged to distinguished New England families on both his father's and mother's side. His paternal grandfather, Andrew R. Roulstone, was a captain of artillery in the army of the struggling republic during the War of the Revolution, and took part in the battle of Bunker Hill. His mother was a direct descendant of Governor Winthrop of Massachusetts, who is a central figure in American history.

When the gold rush of 1849 started, Roulstone came around the Horn in the sailing ship Vesta, landing in San Francisco on December 1, 1849. He cast his lot with the prospectors of the Mokelumne river country, and managed to acquire much valuable mining property in the district.

The pioneer is survived by a widow. Funeral services will be held at the undertaking rooms of the funeral home, Fifteenth and Jefferson streets, at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The body will be cremated.

GOOSE IS CAUSE OF AUTOMOBILE CRASH

STOCKTON, Dec. 27.—A big fat goose, at present under a coop awaiting execution, came very near causing the death of Dr. G. C. Jacobs and his wife of Lodi. The physician, who admits a peculiar weakness for well-cooked geese, was out riding in an automobile with his wife when the danger to meet an accident was imminent. The physician's fondness for geese, presented him with a goose.

The day was cold and the car was being run at a lively clip when suddenly the bird made a terrific dash for liberty. So apprehensive was Dr. Jacobs that he would lose it that he let go the steering wheel and made a number of quick passes at the fluttering goose. In the meantime the automobile swerved to the side of the road and then plunged into a ditch, throwing both occupants out. Both Dr. and Mrs. Jacobs were painfully, but not seriously, hurt.

DIVORCE FOLLOWS DISASTER'S PATH

Strange Set of Circumstances Leads Sweetsters Into the Superior Court.

Disaster and death followed in the wake of the marriage of E. H. and Emily Sweetster, according to the testimony upon which the husband was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce late yesterday afternoon in the superior court. After the wedding, Sweetster's home was burned, his wife was imprisoned, charged with setting fire to the property, another woman identified with the case died while in the custody of the police, and then came a suit in the superior court for heavy damages against half a dozen police officials and their bondsmen. What is still more unique in connection with these complications is the fact that Sweetster was a voluntary husband only four days. That he remained longer married to Mrs. Sweetster was due entirely to the delay of the testimony.

In his testimony Sweetster told the court that hearing of a woman who was sick and destitute he called upon her to give her relief. He found that she was a friend of his boyhood days. He fell in love with her and the wedding followed.

Just four days afterwards the trouble began. Late one night an incendiary fire destroyed his home and he narrowly escaped. With his wife, Mrs. Sweetster, was arrested on the charge of arson. She was held for seven months in the county jail and had two trials in the criminal department of the superior court, but neither conviction nor acquittal. Finally the district attorney's office dismissed the charge against her.

The police detained Elizabeth Wohlgelegen, a neighbor of the Sweetsters, as a witness and she died suddenly in the city prison shortly after being placed there. Her husband and other relatives declare that it was the shock of her husband's arrest and the attitude of the police officers towards her when it was apparent that she was ill that caused her death from an attack of acute heart trouble. Her father is now suing the officials and their bondsmen for the death of his daughter. Damages approximating $75,000 are demanded.

MOTHER'S APPEAL STIRS HEART OF PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—President Taft has dispensed Christmas cheer to four Federal prisoners through commutation of sentence. The pathetic appeal of a prisoner's 80-year-old mother for the son she had not seen for twenty-five years, caused the President to commute to expire at once the sentence of William J. Key, who pleaded guilty in 1906 at St. Joseph, Mo., to counterfeiting. His term would have expired April 21.

The President also commuted, to expire at once, the life sentence of Howell Cobb, an Indian, who pleaded guilty to murder at Sapulpa Indian territory in 1908, and Charles Hopkins, a negro convicted of murder in the District of Columbia in 1904.

The sentence of Fayette F. Armstrong, convicted at Fort Smith, Ark., of violating the retail liquor license law, scheduled to expire May 19, was shortened by a month and a half.

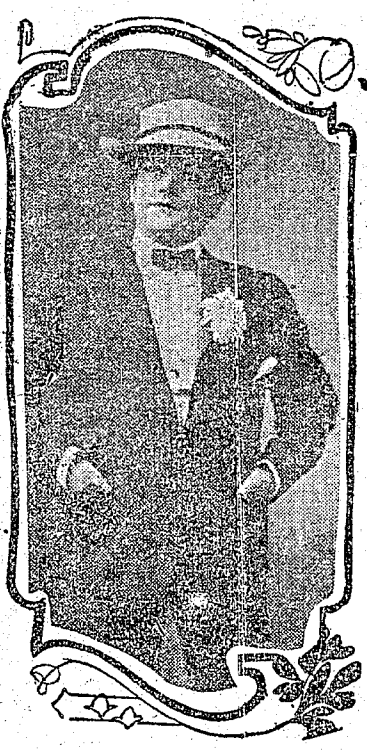

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE HAS CATARRHAL COLD

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—The possibility that Crown Prince Frederick William, who was revealed by catarrhal cold from coming to Berlin from Danzig to be present when the Crown Princess Cecilie gave birth to her fourth son, on December 19, and also at Christmas, will abandon Danzig as a residence during the winter is being discussed in court circles.

The climate of Danzig, where the crown prince is serving in the army, is considered by the Kaiser's physicians as being unsuitable in winter for the heir to the throne.

The crown prince today took his first airing in the garden since the first severe symptoms of cold made their appearance. He will come to Berlin in a day or two.

DELLA FOX NEAR END AS RESULT OF OPERATION

DELLA FOX.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Della Fox, singer and comedienne, is said to be in so critical a condition that death is expected. She was operated on in an uptown sanitarium last Saturday for appendicitis. It was necessary last night to administer stimulants and it was said that the famous actress had delirious moments during which she repeated lines of the songs which she had made popular twenty years ago.

CIGAR STORES OF COAST AFFECTED

United Company to Undergo Reorganization, Following Trust Probe.

As a result of a federal investigation into the affairs of the American Tobacco company and its allies including the United Cigars company, it has been announced that the latter will undergo at once a complete re-organization and the stores on this coast will be effected. That the number of stores will be increased is the prevailing opinion of business men.

Through a message received by headquarters of the United Cigars Stores yesterday, it was learned that the United Cigars company, which has been held by the American Tobacco company, would be at once distributed to the common stockholders of the latter and that the cigar stores company would go about its business independently.

The American Tobacco company controlled the production of 75 per cent of the smoking tobacco manufactured in the United States, 50 per cent of the plug tobacco, 40 per cent of the fine cut cigars, 50 per cent of snuff and 93 per cent of little cigars.

It controlled the United Cigars Stores company through ownership of 66 2-3 of stock. Now that this will be distributed to 1000 small holders, the United Cigars Stores company regains undisputed control through its ownership of 33 1-3 of the stock.

CHRISTMAS TREE PARTIES PLANNED

Many Christmas tree parties are being planned for the entertainment of the children this week. Mrs. J. P. Potter, 745 Third street, is planning to have a few children to be the guests of Dorothy and Donald Potter. Misses Elsie, Florence and Muriel Leander, with George Mook, composed the company.

Mrs. M. L. Green was the hostess at an affair given yesterday in honor of her four-year-old daughter, Caroline.

MAN'S PAST AND PRESENT BLANK

San Francisco Police Seek the Identity of Strange Prisoner Found On Street.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Locked in a cell at the detention hospital is the strangest patient that has ever been brought to the attention of the alienists in charge. Discovered wandering about the streets, scantily clad, unable to speak or write, or even make signs to indicate his identity or his nationality, the man presents a problem which is to puzzle officers and visitors of various lands have been unable to solve.

The individual has been in custody since December 21, and besides his inability to express himself, he presents a strange appearance, being only 4 feet 10 inches tall and weighing but 95 pounds. He may be Ishi the second, for what characteristic of race he has are of the Indian type. His hair is black and straight, his features round and small, with somewhat sunken cheeks. His beard is of the thick quality of the savage, and tattoo marks on his body indicate that he is not of civilized origin.

FOUND STREET.

Patrolman Wuth picked him up on Polk street and as he was unable to get a word out of him decided it was best to take him to the hospital. By gestures he indicated that he could not hear a word of one ear, but could distinguish slight sounds from the other. Handed a pencil and paper, he looked at them as though he had never seen them before, and this morning when a Greek, an Italian, a French, a Spanish, a German, a Scandinavian and a Swiss interpreter tried to speak to him by shouting loudly they met a blank. Because of his striking resemblance to the Indian, the man was taken to the Indian hospital, where the doctors there have been spoken to him, but he understands them not.

The only clew to his identity in the hands of the officials of the hospital are the "I" and "E" on his chest, that of a fly, and he points to it and seems to indicate that he put it there himself. The others on other parts of his body are, perhaps, representing the sign languages of his tribe or nation.

EXPOSITION PLANS PUT ON DISPLAY

Architects Place On Paper the Ideas for Panama-Pacific Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—A reception was held at the headquarters of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company yesterday when the plans for the exposition were laid out for inspection of the plans and views of the fair as conceived by the architects who have been working on the arrangements for 1915.

The plans and views as prepared by the architectural commission in no way copy the arrangement of a block plan for the architecture which will eventually be used, but are merely footprints in the study of the general scheme to be used in process of elimination in order to obtain the final result.

In addition to the drawings relief maps of the Panama canal were shown. Many favorable comments were received from the visitors who expressed themselves as delighted with the exposition thus seen in perspective.

RED STAR LINER NOW FLIES AMERICAN FLAG

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The Red Star liner Kroonland, which has sailed for three years under the Belgian flag, will henceforth fly the Stars and Stripes. Sailing today for Antwerp, the ship is in command of an American skipper, with an American flag at her masthead.

The reason for the change are not specified by the owners. It is said that the pending completion of the Panama canal has something to do with it. The Kroonland's sister ship, the Finland, will also return to American registry within a few weeks. Probably both will later enter the American coastwise trade between Pacific and Atlantic ports via the Panama canal.

BABY IS TENDERED FOR NINETY-THREE CENT BILL

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 27.—A 2-year-old baby appeared sufficient security first glance for a debt of 93 cents, but later a demand for a cash substitute for the security brought the debtor and creditor into court, according to a story told a judge in the city court yesterday.

John Urban, explaining why he became involved in a brawl with Mrs. Rose Shearer, said he owned her 93 cents. She held his baby for it. Later, when he went to make a 2-cent purchase from her, she tendered a $1 bill, he said she kept the bill and told him to take his baby. This, he said, enraged him and he tried to stab her. Court suspended sentence.

BULK OF HUNT ESTATE IS LEFT TO CHARITY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—The will of the late John W. Hunt, millionaire and owner of big hotels all over the United States, which was drawn with a codicil at Asbury Park, was admitted to probate in Judge Rives' court yesterday. The bulk of the estate, valued at $1,500,000, was, by the terms of the will, left to charity. The young wife, from whom Mr. Hunt obtained a divorce a year ago, was not mentioned in the will.

FORMER CHAMBERLAIN ASKS CHANGE OF VENUE

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Submitting an affidavit containing interviews from business men as proof that the people of New York county believe he is guilty, Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain, whose trial on the charge of bribery was set for January 2, filed a motion with the Supreme Court today for a change of venue.

The alleged bribery was committed in connection with transactions involving funds between the Northern Bank, of which Crabin was head, and the Carnegie Trust Company, both defunct. January 5 was fixed as the day for hearing argument on the motion, thus postponing trial.

THIS YOUNGSTER OF 98 BROUGHT INTO COURT

SAN JOSE, Dec. 27.—Thomas Dunbar, aged 98, who celebrated Christmas just as though he believed in a short life and a merry one, was brought before Judge Dougherty yesterday. He produced evidence of his birth in Ireland in 1813, two years before the battle of Waterloo. He regaled the court with reminiscences of historical events in his long and checkered career, and told of the flood and ebbs of his fortunes which at one time floated him into prosperity as a business man in the east and finally left him stranded in the county almshouse here. Believing that Dunbar can not see more than a couple of more such holidays, Judge Dougherty dismissed his case.

UNABLE TO FIND MAN BEHIND RESOLUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Just who was behind the resolution presented at the last meeting of the supervisors "requesting" the two telephone companies to combine their interests in this city could not be determined at yesterday's meeting and vain attempts were made to settle the matter, some by throwing out the resolution and others by amending it so as to merely "permit" such a combination to take place.

There were diverse opinions in regard to the situation, no two members of the board seeming to have the same feeling toward the resolution. It was finally agreed that the committee should report at the next meeting but not until argument had occupied the greater part of the time.

Madero's Opportunity to Show Wisdom.

It is to be hoped that the surrender of General Edouardo Reyes will restore peace and order in Mexico, but if he should be executed for inciting rebellion against the government a bitter feud will be engendered. Madero is President today because he incited and led a rebellion against the government. A few days ago the Mexican Congress appropriated several million dollars to pay the expenses incurred by the revolutionists who overthrew the Diaz government. A large part of this sum will go to members of the Madero family or to persons who advanced the money on guarantees furnished by the Maderos.

Reyes only did what Madero did. To put him to death will sow dragons' teeth in the republic. He is an old man, past 74, and his days of activity are over. He is no longer a menace to the existing government—the ignominious failure of his uprising proves that—and his honorable service and advanced age, as well as the dictates of sound policy, urge clemency in his behalf. By being merciful and magnanimous Madero will be wise and render his country a service.

What Mexico most needs at the present time is tranquility and protection for life and property. A cessation of turmoil and bloodshed will be the greatest blessing the Mexican people can have. There can be no surcease of conflict as long as the government depends upon force for its maintenance and exacts blood vengeance upon all who resist it. If Mexico is to progress the ruthless policy of the past must be discarded and the people taught to respect the law and render voluntary obedience to the established authority. When Madero was trying to drive Diaz from power he preached this doctrine. He will be false to his professions and untrue to the best interests of his country should he now abjure his doctrines and proceed to extremities with the aged chieftan who has laid down the sword of revolt and surrendered himself to the law he has violated. It is a case of an unsuccessful rebel giving himself up to a successful rebel.

Madero's treatment of Reyes will be a test of his wisdom and magnanimity. It will also demonstrate the confidence he places in the people and the stability of his government. Only fear or revenge, or both, will prompt the execution of Reyes. In either case Madero would suffer in the opinion of mankind and would give proofs of an ignoble mind and a barbarous temper. Reyes alive can do him no harm. Reyes dead, a victim of the executioner, will be a menace to Madero and the peace of the republic.

The weather has been pretty sharp up this way during the past few days, but it was much more inclement in the region south of Tehachapi. For instance, the thermometer registered 35 degrees in Oakland on the morning of December 26th. At the same hour of the same day it registered 22 degrees at San Bernardino and 24 degrees at Pasadena. It fell to 25 degrees at Riverside and Redlands, and all the orange growers were smudging to save their trees and fruit. In the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys the orange groves were not so threatened by the cold.

Setting Up the Unit Rule.

In 1880 the unit rule was broken in the Republican National Convention. Ever since then Congressional districts have been permitted to elect delegates to national conventions representative of local sentiment and independent of the dominating sentiment of the State. A State convention has had the power ever since 1880 to pledge only the delegates at large. Each Congressional district elected delegates separately who were free from the dictation of the State at large.

Now the Legislature has re-imposed the unit rule on the Republicans of California. In 1880 the rule was broken to prevent the nomination of General U. S. Grant for a third term. All the other Presidential candidates combined to break the rule that the convention might be free to make a choice that was not dictated by the party machines in the big States. The result was the nomination of James A. Garfield.

After all these years the Legislature of this State has embodied the unit rule in a statute which deprives the Congressional districts of the freedom of expression and independence of representation they have enjoyed hitherto. All the twenty-two delegates from California will be elected en bloc in a State-wide primary, which, of course, destroys the system of district representation established in 1880 when the unit rule was broken to free the national convention from the domination of bosses.

A compact machine organization voted down every proposition to preserve the system of independent district representation. If a bare plurality can be polled for a single candidate he gets every delegate from California. But if it be impossible to nominate that candidate or he chooses to withdraw from the contest, what then? Who is to get the votes? Who is to dispose of them? Delegates elected by district conventions could not be handed over from one candidate to another by wholesale. The delegation would not go to the convention tied up like a bunch of radishes to be voted as some one man may direct.

When the Presidential primary bill was in course of preparation, it was announced that the Wisconsin plan would be adopted. Wisconsin is Robert M. La Follette's State. La Follette sent a letter out here directing the passage of a Presidential primary law, citing the example of his own State. But the example of Wisconsin has not been followed. Quite the contrary. In Wisconsin four delegates at large are elected by a State-wide primary. Each Congressional district elects two delegates by primary vote. This method is in harmony with the system established in 1880. It specifically repudiates the unit rule abolished under the leadership of James G. Blaine, George William Curtis, John Sherman, Carl Schurz and Charles Sumner.

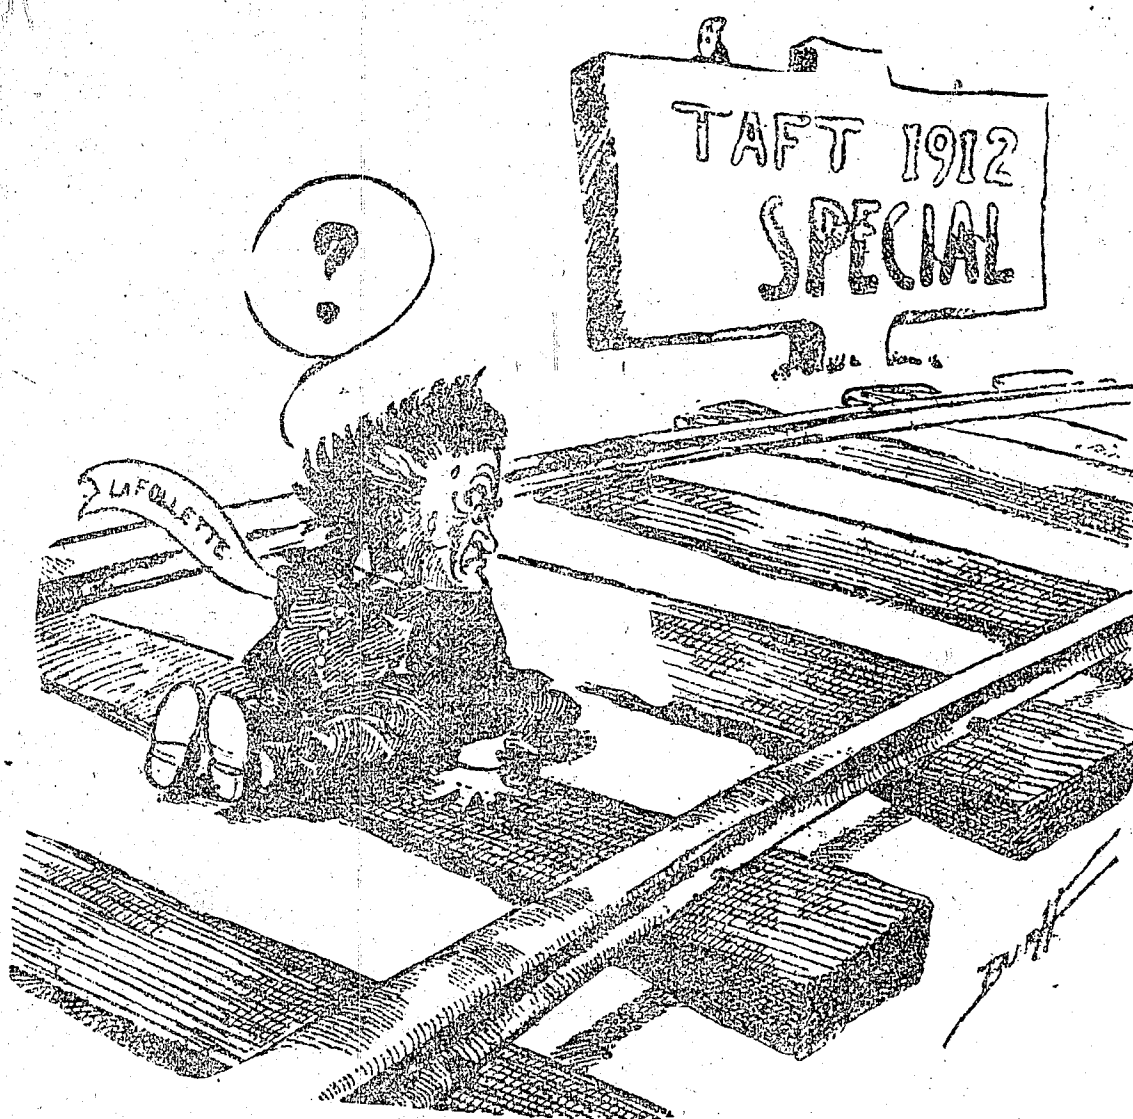

The reason for the action of the California Legislature is not far to seek. The object secondarily is to give La Follette all the delegates from this State, but the primary object is to place the group now in political charge in absolute control of the entire delegation. Hence no district is allowed to elect delegates separately. Under the new law a majority of the Congressional districts might vote for Taft delegates, but if the La Follette vote in the other districts overbalance the Taft vote by the smallest fraction, La Follette will get all the delegates and Taft none at all.

And this is what is called letting the people rule. Just substitute bosses for people and the phrase will be correct.

"What's the matter with Kansas?" asks the Kansas City Star. At this writing Senator Bristow appears to be the principal trouble, although Governor Stubbs causes considerable bellyache.

figures would make the whiskers of the late lamented Peffer stand on end. They certainly would make the election of a man like Peffer to the United States Senate impossible. Peffer was the political product of drouth, grasshoppers and panic. He was the political expression of short crops and hard times.

No Danger of Woman Rule.

Should woman suffrage be adopted in all the States they could not control the politics of the country even if they desired to do so. Only in three States do the women outnumber the men, and in the whole country there are nearly two millions more males than females.

There is a popular impression that the women are in a majority in nearly all the Eastern States. Such is not the fact. Only in Massachusetts, Maryland and Rhode Island are they in the majority. The voting strength of those States in the National Congress and the Electoral College is a negligible quantity.

But there is no reason to apprehend that the women would combine along sex lines if they were given the ballot. They have not done so in any State where equal suffrage prevails. In Colorado and Wyoming they have always divided, as men do, on lines having no relation to sex. In Utah the Mormon Church exerts a controlling influence on the woman vote, a great majority of the women of that State being devotedly attached to the church founded by Joseph Smith, but even there they divide as the men do.

There is no ground therefore for the apprehension entertained by some men that there is danger of our government being feminized. It is not within the power of the women to do it, and there is no evidence that they would do it if they had the power. With the decrease of warfare the numerical preponderance of males increases, the higher death rate among males being more than offset by the excess of male births. There is no danger of women ruling the country.

The telegraphed story that a San Francisco man was robbed in Chicago lacks interest. Nearly everybody gets robbed in Chicago.

The Congressional apportionment is as fair a one as the State has ever had—as fair a one, perhaps, as could have been made under the circumstances. It bears evidence of a sincere attempt to do the right thing. It is a pity the same motive did not govern the legislative reapportionment.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

The disposition made by Mrs. C. Garcelon of the vast Merritt fortune is made known by the deed of trust and the last will. The most important bequest to Oaklanders is that for the establishment of a splendid hospital which is endowed for about $800,000. The bequest of at least $400,000 to Bowdoin college in Maine will cause much disappointment to those interested in the destinies of the University of California.

George Van Hulten, captain and manager of the Baltimore club is taking it very easy this winter. He says that he never felt better in his life than he does at present.

Little Danny Sweeney, the popular outfielder, has signed with the San Francisco club for next season. Since Daniel became a benedict he has been one of the happiest ball players in the state.

While being led out of the county jail today on her way to Agnew, an insane woman fell upon the neck of Deputy Sheriff Macy and kissed him time and again. Clerk Thomas Robinson went to the relief and rescued Macy from his perilous position. The woman ran after Dr. Blood but the young physician anticipated her and galloped down the stairway out of reach.

The will of George Godfrey will be filed for probate next week and as yet nothing is known about its provisions.

The supreme court this morning affirmed the decision of the superior court of this county in declaring the first annexation election void.

The will of Fannie Simpson, who died at Alvarado, has been filed for probate. Her estate is valued at $75,000 and she bequeathed $4000 each to her seven nieces and nephews and the residue of the estate, with the exception of a few small bequests, is left to her sister, Catherine Smith, a widow.

At the annual business meeting of the First Baptist church held in the chapel last evening, it was reported that there remained in the treasury a surplus of $362.40. The church is free from debt. The following were elected as officers for next year: C. F. Baker, treasurer; C. Y. Reed, C. F. Baker, J. H. Stevens, J. Y. Hoyt and J. L. Lyon, trustees. H. Garthwaite was elected to succeed himself as deacon and church clerk.

The patrolmen are having a hard time of it with the grippe. The sick list now numbers eleven men including Officers McClell, Boyce, Holland, Downey, Brown, Murray, O'Hara, Nedderman and Specials Wells and Ayers.

The twelfth annual reunion of the Oakland High School Alumni Association was held Friday evening, at which time the annual election of officers took place. The following were elected: President, Charles Cushing; vice president, N. D. Phelps; secretary and treasurer, Will Grove; executive committee, Will Grove, John Sanborn, Mabel Craft, Lotta Clough and Jessie Newsome.

The employees of the Alameda post-office, together with Postmaster Sturtevant, had a merry time yesterday. One of the carriers had a friend who gave him a turkey; another got a half-dozen mince pies, another fruit, and so on down the line until there was enough to make a dinner. The feast was held in the office. Postmaster Sturtevant supplied the coffee and trimmings.

SERMONS IN BRIEF

CHRISTIANITY IN SCHOLARSHIP

(By Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, Pastor First Baptist Church, Berkeley.)

Bethlehem was a place of contrasts. A child of poor parents was born in a stable and his cradle was a feed box. We have overlaid the stable with gold leaf but it was a place crowded with cattle and donkeys.

To the poetical, mystical men of the East there was a wind-borne celestial song. Scholars brought gifts appropriate to royalty alone.

The magis were the scholars of their land and time.

If we know more than the past it is because we stand on its shoulders.

The essential Christian ideas command the allegiance of the thoughtful.

DON'T BE BALD

Almost Any One May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

You can easily find out for yourself if your hair needs nourishment, if it is thinning, getting dry, harsh and brittle, or splitting at the ends. You simply have to pull a hair from the top of your head and closely examine its root. If the bulb is plump and rosy it is all right; if it is white and shrunken your hair is diseased and needs nourishment.

We have a remedy for hair troubles that cannot be surpassed. It has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 93 out of 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. It will even grow hair on bald heads if the scalp is not glazed and shiny. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test. We are so sure that Rexall's "33" Hair Tonic will completely eradicate dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our every guarantee to refund any money paid for Rexall's "33" Hair Tonic in every instance where it does not do as we claim or fails to give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall's "33" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is perfumed with a pleasant odor, and does not grease or gum the hair. We have it in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1. We urge you to try Rexall's "33" Hair Tonic on our recommendation and with our positive back of it. You certainly take no risk. FREE TOLLS FOR U. S. SHIPS OPPOSED BY KENT

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 27.—Among several replies received by the Chamber of Commerce from Representatives and United States Senators, the reply of Congressman Kent of the Second district is only one unfavorable to the resolution adopted by the chamber to which the lawmakers were asked to urge Congress to favor the elimination of all tolls for the use of the Panama canal by ships doing a coastwise trade and flying the American flag.

Kent has written a letter to the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce that free tolls for American ships alone would be "such artificial discrimination" it would "clog commerce and thereby add to the cost of distribution and the improvement of the commerce of this coast."

Among those who have written in favor of the resolution are Congressman Baker, Hayes, Needham and Senators Perkins and Works.

Annually the firm with which he is associated does nearly $20,000,000 worth of business, carrying on their lists many of the great producing factors in the United States, arranging their advertising matter and placing it in the newspapers and magazines that will assure the best results for the advertiser and for the company.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—The throwing together of Representatives Needham and Smith in one district by the new apportionment of California formed a feature of the Legislature's act, as viewed in Washington yesterday. Lack of definite information kept the members of the delegation from talking at length, but all of them, except Representatives Knowland and Stephens, who are in Panama, and Representatives Needham and Smith, expect they would be candidates for the fifty-third Congress. Smith, who is seriously ill, could not be seen.

"I cannot express an opinion without definite information," Needham said. "And also I must confer with Smith. We are friends and shall not run against each other."

Representative Hayes was the only member of the delegation who had any new district. He said he was satisfied with the information he had.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS SOCIETY BRIDE GETS BAIL FOR STANFORD UNIVERSITY MEN

Mrs. William Manaton Speeds Into Jail in Race With College Students.

EDWOOD CITY, Dec. 27.—A thrilling auto race down the county road had an unhappy finish in the justice's court for Mrs. William Manaton, a young society matron of Palo Alto and Howard Crookson and W. Almsworth, two Stanford students, yesterday, when the woman autist, who had been vanquished in the speed contest, had to put up bail to save the victor from a night in jail.

A puncture near Beresford brought a helping hand from the students' car, then a race ensued, which ended when Motorcycle Policemen M. F. Brown and T. A. Martinson placed the contestants under arrest.

They were taken before Justice of the Peace H. W. Lamkin. The students were first offenders and might have received the customary $15 fine had not the stern squire overheard, "I got you, Judge." Their bail was fixed at $25, which proved to exceed the cash they had on hand.

Mrs. Manaton was likewise threatened with a $15 fine, when the Judge recognized her as the Miss Jeffrey Harding of San Francisco who had been before him two months ago on the same offense. After confessing that she was an October bride, her bail was fixed at $20.

A collection from the students, Mrs. Manaton and her girl companion just totaled to this amount. No longer in custody, she set out to face her husband's rival. After a fast run to Palo Alto in Crookson's car, which had proven the speeder, she returned and put up their bail. Their cases will be heard Thursday.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Miss Jane Laurel, the actress, last night announced her engagement to Robert Jordan of the firm of Jordan, Marsh & Co. of Boston. For several weeks past Miss Laurel has denied her engagement to Jordan, and insisted that she was not going to leave the stage.

"I had my own reasons for denying my engagement," Miss Laurel said last night. "We are to be married early in January, and will sail for Egypt, where we will spend several months."

"Having made up my mind to marry, naturally I will quit the stage."

Mince Pie Barred

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass., Dec. 27.—Pie is under the ban at Holyoke College. There is to be no more mince pie on the college tables, and the same offense is forbidden by the faculty. By this means the faculty will try to keep the girls awake after lunch.

Recently professors and instructors have noticed that girls slump in at 2 o'clock recitations sleepy and sluggish. Inquiry developed the fact that mince pie made up the larger part of the collegiate luncheon. Apple pudding ran a close second.

"We'll cut out the pie and the pudding, and the girls will wake up," said the faculty, and so the order has gone forth.

Gags Herself

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 27.—Tired of her husband's practice of staying out late at night and desiring to frighten him into spending more time at his own headquarters, Mrs. James Davis prevailed upon friends to strap her to her bed and gag her in her home, according to developments of a police investigation.

Mrs. Davis remained in her uncomfortable position until her husband returned late at dawn yesterday morning, when she was released. Her husband set upon by two masked robbers. Davis at once notified the police and Sergeant Wanless made an investigation. At first Mrs. Davis clung firmly to her story of robbery, but was soon caught in numerous contradictions. Gradually it was brought out that she had taken this peculiar means to induce her husband to remain home at night.

Woman Gets Job

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 27.—For the first time in the history of the state of Michigan, unless Governor Osborn changes his mind, a woman will be private secretary to himself. Miss Mary Hadrich of Marquette, for several years private secretary to Charles S. Osborn, and now in Governor Osborn's office as his executive clerk, is, it is understood, to be appointed his secretary, to perform her new duties January 1. Though prominent in politics for a number of years, Miss Hadrich is not a suffragette.

She Was Chilly

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Miss Jennie Stryker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stryker of Washington, N. J., and Creed H. Brown of California have toiled for a week to get to New York. They had not seen each other since the announcement of their engagement a year ago. The cause of the trouble has been kept secret.

She's Had Seven

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 27.—Seven husbands have come and gone in the matrimonial experience of Ida Hoffman, according to the statement of Martin Ritz, who claims to be the seventh, and who has filed an insanity complaint against the woman. He stated that the woman had left him in May, 1909, going to California with another man. He had not seen her since that time until he caught sight of her on the street just before coming to the courthouse.

"It this time I am looking for me again," he told Clerk Shaw. After I married her in Minnesota I learned that she had killed one of her husbands and two children. She's crazy and probably will murder us all in our beds. I want her locked up."

Ritz secured a divorce after the disappearance of the woman in 1909 and has remarried.

Kills Squaw

VISALLA, Dec. 27.—A squaw named Schoolhouse Mary was clubbed to death by her husband, Bill Scott, a half-breed, following a drunken row participated in by many Indians yesterday morning. Liquor had been obtained from an unknown source and hilarity continued all day Christmas and last night.

Scott, who is armed, has taken to the hills, and a posse headed by Sheriff Collins is now in pursuit. Mary was a year ago traded to Scott by Schoolhouse Jake, her former husband, for a pair of

The statement says that after payment of debts there remained $34,647.32 in the estate. To Alice and Blanche, children of the decedent, is left $100 each, the balance going to the widow, Josephine de Longpre, who still resides at the beautiful home of the former flower painter.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—At the Christmas dinner yesterday at the home of his wealthy parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Dodson, near San Pedro, James H. "We'll cut out the pie and the pudding, and the girls will wake up," said the faculty, and so the order has gone forth.

Gags Herself

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 27.—Tired of her husband's practice of staying out late at night and desiring to frighten him into spending more time at his own headquarters, Mrs. James Davis prevailed upon friends to strap her to her bed and gag her in her home, according to developments of a police investigation.

Mrs. Davis remained in her uncomfortable position until her husband returned late at dawn yesterday morning, when she was released. Her husband set upon by two masked robbers. Davis at once notified the police and Sergeant Wanless made an investigation. At first Mrs. Davis clung firmly to her story of robbery, but was soon caught in numerous contradictions. Gradually it was brought out that she had taken this peculiar means to induce her husband to remain home at night.

Woman Gets Job

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 27.—For the first time in the history of the state of Michigan, unless Governor Osborn changes his mind, a woman will be private secretary to himself. Miss Mary Hadrich of Marquette, for several years private secretary to Charles S. Osborn, and now in Governor Osborn's office as his executive clerk, is, it is understood, to be appointed his secretary, to perform her new duties January 1. Though prominent in politics for a number of years, Miss Hadrich is not a suffragette.

She Was Chilly

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Miss Jennie Stryker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stryker of Washington, N. J., and Creed H. Brown of California have toiled for a week to get to New York. They had not seen each other since the announcement of their engagement a year ago. The cause of the trouble has been kept secret.

She's Had Seven

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 27.—Seven husbands have come and gone in the matrimonial experience of Ida Hoffman, according to the statement of Martin Ritz, who claims to be the seventh, and who has filed an insanity complaint against the woman. He stated that the woman had left him in May, 1909, going to California with another man. He had not seen her since that time until he caught sight of her on the street just before coming to the courthouse.

"It this time I am looking for me again," he told Clerk Shaw. After I married her in Minnesota I learned that she had killed one of her husbands and two children. She's crazy and probably will murder us all in our beds. I want her locked up."

Ritz secured a divorce after the disappearance of the woman in 1909 and has remarried.

Kills Squaw

VISALLA, Dec. 27.—A squaw named Schoolhouse Mary was clubbed to death by her husband, Bill Scott, a half-breed, following a drunken row participated in by many Indians yesterday morning. Liquor had been obtained from an unknown source and hilarity continued all day Christmas and last night.

Scott, who is armed, has taken to the hills, and a posse headed by Sheriff Collins is now in pursuit. Mary was a year ago traded to Scott by Schoolhouse Jake, her former husband, for a pair of

Joy Causes Death

SAN JOSE, Dec. 27.—Joy over the news that her family had won a seven years' fight in the courts over a right of way through property at Evergreen caused the death here of Mrs. Frank Corea. The news was told her on Thursday by a messenger who rushed from the courtroom to the Corea home at Evergreen. Mrs. Corea was ill in bed. She arose to kiss and congratulate her aged husband and fell back stricken with paralysis.

Monday she died without regaining consciousness. The legal fight was with the family of Bernardo Higuera and has been in court seven years, being one of the most bitterly fought land cases with which the county courts have ever dealt.

MISS GILDER MAKES HER DEBUT ON STAGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Miss Dorothy Gilder is so new to the stage that she opened her eyes wide when she was asked for an interview yesterday. She is the daughter of the late Richard Watson Gilder and she appeared in the new Oriental drama, "Kismet," under the name of Dorothy Coleman in a small part, that of a fruit vendor, with only two words to speak.

"I don't want the name of Gilder," Miss Gilder said. "You see, I don't know whether or not I shall succeed in my chosen profession and I would much prefer to be ignored until I have really done something. I should like to do credit to my name, but my name can make no more difference to my success than it had been born Miss Ann Jane Jones."

OPERA SINGER
QUITS HUSBAND

Their Ways Diverge After He Helped Mme. Rappold to Stage Career.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Mme. Marie
Rappold, the Metropolitan opera soprano, and her husband, Dr. J. C. Rappold, Jr.,
a Brooklyn physician, are living apart,
although there have been no legal steps taken toward a separation yet.
The difficulty between the opera singer and her physician husband, according to him, is merely one of income and environment. Mme. Rappold was possessed of an exceptional voice, and doctor Rappold assisted her in cultivating it. When the wife had reached the position in the musical world for which she then believed she was fitted, she found she had outgrown her husband and his circles, and as he could not afford what she could afford, the separation followed.
The Rappolds were married twenty years ago and have one child, a daughter, who is living with her mother in the Hempstead Hudson apartments, at 110th street and Riverside drive, and is studying singing. Doctor Rappold is living with his mother in Brooklyn, where he also has an office.
Dr. Rappold has told something of the difficulties which he and his wife had encountered.
"We live in different spheres," he said.
"My wife's income is many times greater than mine, and in order to live on the same footing either I would have to sacrifice pride or my wife would have to sacrifice her career. Neither of us is willing to make the necessary sacrifice. Naturally, I cannot help but wish we could return to the days we spent together in our home at 700 Bushwick avenue, but if we had it all to go through again, I should not be selfish enough to stand in the way of my wife's career."

"BE HAPPY AND LIVE LONG."
The simple rules for longevity followed by Joseph Brundage, of this place, who celebrated his ninety-first birthday anniversary last night with a family party, are: Eat heartily; work hard; do not worry over things too large; be kind to all; be cheerful. If you are not persistent you will sleep well, and if you sleep well you will be happy. Happiness makes one live long.

nia, and after their stay in the south will tendant. The bride is the daughter of

C. W. Erick, Superintendent of Schools G. W.
Erick. After the honeymoon the couple will live in this city.

WEDDING IN BERKELEY.
Another wedding which will take place
today is that of Miss Lillian May Freeman, who will become the bride of George Frederick Holbrook, a young mining engineer of Hollywood. He is a graduate of the University of California State University, and is a member of a well known family of Yreka.
The wedding will take place before a few close friends and relatives at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Lillian R.
Hudson, of Derby street, Berkeley.
The bride is a very attractive girl.
After the wedding trip the couple will establish their home in the South.

LUNCHEON HOSTESS TODAY.
Mrs. John D. Ely was a luncheon hostess today to a score of matrons of the Cosmos Club, who met at her home in Linda Vista for an hour of auction bridge, following the luncheon. The occasion was planned especially as a farewell to Mrs. Edward M. Walsh, who is president of the club. She and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Maurice Walsh, leave soon for a trip to the Atlantic coast.

ENTERTAINING ENGLISH GUESTS.
Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Miller of Lester avenue, East Oakland, are entertaining as house guests Mrs. R. J. Campbell and Miss May Campbell of London, England.
Next week they will be joined by Rev.
R. J. Campbell of the City Temple church of London, the noted divine known as the great nonconformist.
Dr. Campbell will deliver the Eard series of lectures at the state university next month. Miss Campbell is a gifted singer, and she has consented to give

Fresh Air the Great Beauty Specialist
By LILLIAN RUSSELL

THE greatest peril to human life which we have had to combat is tuberculosis. We all need fresh air, for fresh air in the lungs means pure blood in the body, and pure blood is health. If you only walk a few squares a day you can gain much if you will throw your shoulders back, lift up your chin and breathe deeply through your nose. Keep your mouth shut firmly, hold the air in your lungs a few seconds and then exhale through your nostrils slowly, and you will find you shortly will feel better in every way. Even the "black butterflies" which have perhaps given you a sleepless night will fly away to some other resting place after you have had a short walk in the open air and a half-hour given to deep breathing.
Your eyes will become brighter, your complexion will show clear and rosy, nature will assert herself and beautify your face in a way that would be the despair of a beauty specialist. The skin, when you return from a ride or walk, may need care, for the dust sifts into the pores and will produce a more or less drying effect upon it, but a brisk walk acts as a tonic, and you can see improvement immediately in your complexion as well as in your spirits.
Sometimes (but this is rare) a little eruption comes on the skin after walking in the wind. This, however, generally denotes a disordered liver. Continued and lengthy walks will also cure liver trouble, so if you have patience and no fear you can walk off any ills. Plant your feet firmly upon the good earth, look up with nothing between you and your Creator and feel for the moment that you are above the petty affairs of the world.
Gather in fresh air and sunshine, express nothing but a reflection of these, and you will find much health and happiness. Then all the world will look better to you, for you will be able to love and appreciate all the world holds for you. Remember, one hour's walk in the fresh air will change blue to rose color.

send me a stamped and addressed

the recipe for skin food, and also instructions for reducing your flesh.
You do not say if your hair is gray.
If it is, nothing will darken it but yea.

C. L.—Use a cold compress of witch hazel on your throat each night for three nights; then rub an emollient recommended by Florence G. for her elbows, putting it on plentifully and tying a piece of cambric skin about the throat for three nights. Alternate this for three weeks, and I think you will see a great difference.

FLORENCE G.—Scrub your elbows with a hard flesh brush, hot water, and plenty of soap; use a good shaving soap, if possible, so that the lather will be heavy. Afterward rub them with the following tonic emollient: Oil of sweet almonds one and a half ounces, oil of bitter almonds five drops, balsam of tolu one dram, benzoin one dram, essence of lemon
three drops, essence of casjuput
two drops. Put the balsam of tolu, benzoin, oil of sweet almonds and bitter almonds together and keep at a gentle heat for twenty-four hours; turn off from the sediment and add the essences. This is fine for whitening and softening the skin, especially upon the arms.

MRS. BRADLEY.—I was very glad to learn that you found the instructions I sent you so helpful.
For the superfluous hair on your arms, if you cannot afford the electric needle, take enough pure peroxide of hydrogen to wet the skin,

M. B.—From your letter I would think that you were too thin. If you will send me a self-addressed stamped envelope I shall send you a dietary for putting on flesh. Are you sure that you do not wear either tight corsets or tight shoes which restrict your circulation?
The redness of your hands which you speak of betokens bad circulation. If you will send me stamped and addressed envelope asking for it I shall send you a harmless face balm.

MRS. L. D.—A simple remedy for constipation is bran biscuit and fruit only for your breakfast. The biscuit is made just the same as you make corn meal muffins, only instead of the meal you use bran, which you can buy at your grocery store. Take long walks each day in the open air. The following is a good laxative: Cream of tartar eleven grains, powdered sennals two drams, powdered anise
one dram, powdered fennel one dram, powdered licorice root two drams, powdered sulphur two drams, sugar one ounce. Mix thoroughly and take a dessert
spoonful every night.

G. K.—I am afraid that I cannot suggest any way to make your face grow larger unless you increase the flesh all over your body.
If you will send me a self-addressed envelope asking for it I shall send you a dietary for putting on flesh.

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 27.—Seeds

recently gathered on the Kaniku National Forest reserve, in northern Idaho, will be planted in the Coeur d'Alene, St.
Joe, Lolo and Cabinet forests next spring.

in districts swept by fire in 1910. A seed extracting mill is being installed by the Government at the Falls Ranger station and is expected to turn out 14,000 pounds of seed at a cost of about $1 a pound.
Henry H. Farquhar, chief of planting of the United States Forest Service, who is in Spokane, reports that the cones were collected entirely from squirrel caches. Operations were spread over a territory 22 miles in length and five miles in width, 100 men being located in four camps, each with two cooks and a camp foreman.
The men were paid by the day, with a bonus if they averaged a certain number of sacks each day. Several collected more than ten two-bushel sacks a day during the thirty days they were at work.

DESPERATE MEN HOLD UP SALOON

TWO DARING ROBBERIES REPORTED

Footpads Stab Oaklander in Shoulder and Back After Taking His Money.

Pair of Bandits Cover People in Resort With Guns and Get Coin.

Two daring robberies were committed almost simultaneously in different parts of the city last night. Four men were held up in the saloon of Fred Von Duren at 3871 East Fourteenth street about 10:15 last night, two masked and armed highwaymen being the intruders; while about 10:45 o'clock at the corner of Broadway street and San Pablo avenue, Henry Edwards of 2143 Market street was held up by two thugs, and when he resisted, was stabbed in the shoulder and back by his assailants. The police are investigating the cases, but believe there was no connection between them.

Edwards was returning to his home when he was assailed by two men wearing white masks. One of the highwaymen held Edwards while the other searched his pockets, obtaining about $10 in silver. As they were about to leave him, Edwards struggled to free himself. One of the thugs turned with a curse and buried the blade of a long clasp knife in the shoulder of his victim.

Edwards staggered back under the blow, and the other man whipped out a knife and stabbed him in the left shoulder from behind, inflicting a deep flesh wound. The man fell fainting to the street, and the two thugs escaped. Edwards recovered and was found wandering down San Pablo avenue by passerby. He was removed to the Merritt Hospital, where he was given medical attention and was later moved to his home by Captain Charles Beck. A posse of police hurried to the place, and a search was kept up for several hours for the robbers.

HOLD-UP SALOON.
The saloon robbery was carried off with a high hand by two marauders, armed, and masked with black strips of cloth. The two men entered the saloon with their revolvers in their hands and covered the bartender and the visitors in the place before it was realized that a hold-up was taking place.

"Throw up your hands!" commanded one of the intruders.

The bartender and four others who were in the saloon complied with dispatch.

"Now just keep quiet, and don't make any fuss and you won't get hurt," the robber continued. He stood in the doorway with two large revolvers leveled, directing the pistol from one to another of his victims.

The second highwayman slipped his weapons loosely into his belt and went to work in a businesslike manner. He took $70 from the saloon till, then searched bartender H. H. Brough, but found nothing.

Charles Conitt was the next to receive attention from the bandit, and $25 was found on his person. The robber overlooked a $5 piece in a side pocket in searching C. S. Stratford, but took 20 cents. A fourth man whose name has not been learned, was also robbed. The police were immediately notified and a search was made, but without avail. The police are working on the case today, but so far have not obtained a clue that gives promise of leading to the capture of the bandits.

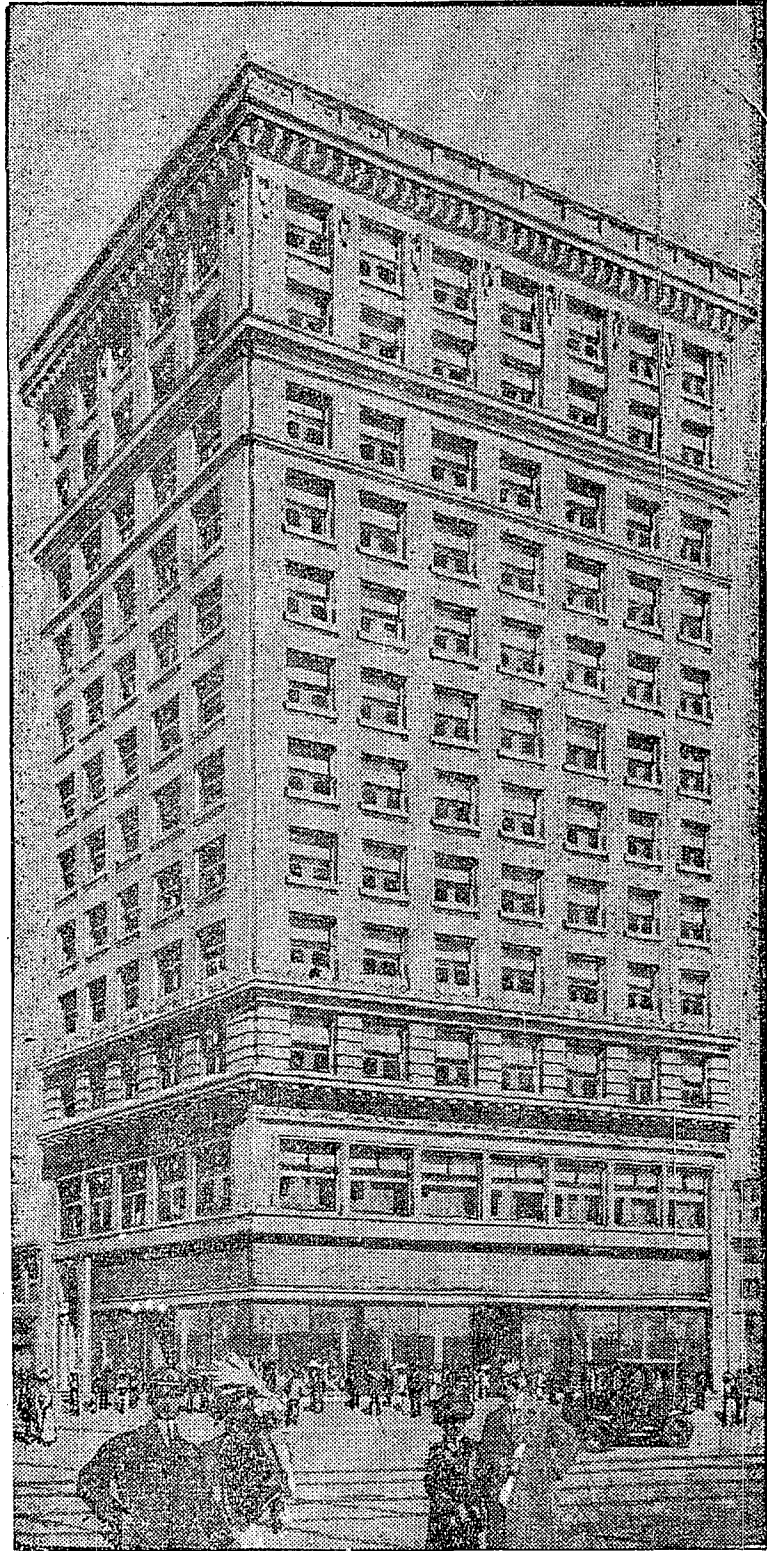

SAN LEANDRO AND W. P. ADJUST DIFFERENCES

SAN LEANDRO, Dec. 27.—A communication has been received by City Clerk Herbert from the Western Pacific Company in reply to a complaint from the board of town trustees that the railroad crossings in San Leandro are continually blocked by freight trains. Necessary changes for the handling of cars while loading and unloading have been ordered, and the board is assured that the nuisance will be ended.

PRINCE REGENT HURT IN FALL FROM HORSE

MUNICH, Bavaria, Dec. 27.—Prince Regent Luitpold of Bavaria, now in his 91st year, is suffering from serious injuries. The regent fell from his horse recently while riding in a hunt. An official bulletin issued last night indicates that his injuries are graver than had been believed.

TOWER OF TRADE TO HOUSE HUB JONAS TO BUILD 12-STORY BLOCK

Twelve-story Class-A building to be erected at Broadway and Thirteenth street.

Magnificent Structure Will Adorn the Southwest Corner of Broadway and Thirteenth Street

A. Jonas, proprietor of the Hub Clothing store, is planning to erect a twelve-story class A building on the southwest corner of Broadway and Thirteenth. The lot, which has a Broadway frontage of 61 feet, 6 inches and a depth and frontage of 90 feet on Thirteenth street, is now covered by a two-story building. It constitutes a part of the old Canning block and adjoins the property in the same block recently bought by E. A. Whitaker, former Salt Lake City capitalist, who has made many investments within the past two or three years in Oakland business property, from the Cohn Bros. of the Bell Theater. The ground floor of the premises is now occupied by the Owl Drug Company under a lease which has another year to run, and by R. W. Edwards, the jeweler.

In anticipation of the expiration of the lease, Jonas has been planning an improvement which will give better returns on the property, the value of which has now increased beyond the capacity of a two-story building to produce. Architect C. W. Dickey was employed to draw plans of a modern store and office building and draft a prospectus showing estimates of cost of construction and probable revenue, as a basis for financing the improvement. Dickey's estimates of cost places it at $375,000.

Mr. Jonas, who is one of Oakland's most enterprising merchants and boosters, is now working out plans for the financing of the proposed improvement. Several offers have been submitted to him from parties desirous of co-operating in the work of carrying it out. The site is in the very heart of the central business district. Diagonally across the street stands the Union Savings bank eleven-story building, at present the tallest business structure in the city.

The Jonas property is, moreover, located in the same block in which the twenty-four story Cohn building, the elevation of which was recently printed in THE TRIBUNE, is to be erected, namely, on the northeast corner of Twelfth and Washington streets, as soon as the building now standing on the property is vacated by the Kahn Bros. at the end of their lease.

According to the architect's plans, the fourteen-foot basement and the ground floor will be devoted exclusively to mercantile business, all stories above being laid out as offices to be served with a battery of three swift-running elevators.

18 REFUGEES DIE FROM POISON

Contributed Christmas Delicacy at Shelter for Homeless Proves Fatal.

Spoiled Smoked Herring Is Unwittingly Fed to Destitute Men.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—Eighteen inmates of the Berlin Municipal Shelter for the Homeless died during the night from poisoning and others are dying or seriously ill. The number of destitute men who took refuge in the institution last night was 4414. Some of these brought with them extra scraps of food in order to give a Christmas touch to the frugal meal of bread and soup served them by the authorities. The extra delicacy consisted in many cases of spoiled smoked herring, of which a large number partook. Shortly after midnight groans were heard from the dormitories and the officials found several men dying and others in convulsions.

The physicians attached to the institution at once administered emetics and sought help from the city hospitals, but eighteen of the sufferers died in a short time.

The Municipal Night Shelter of Berlin provides sleeping accommodations and a meal to any destitute person who seeks refuge there at night. In the course of the last twelve months it has given shelter to more than 1,000,000 persons. In the winter months the number of inmates amounts nightly to between 4000 and 5000 men, besides a large number of women, and the cost of providing for them is met by an appropriation out of the city funds.

WOMAN JUSTICE BARS BEER AS AN EXHIBIT

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 27.—Although, as a justice of the peace, Mrs. McCulloch was asked to hear an exhibit of beer, she refused to allow the beverage to be brought into her house. The prosecution insisted that the case could not go on without the beer exhibit.

The justice of the peace agreed to ride in a wagon with the beer. A police patrol was called, the beer loaded into it, and Mrs. McCulloch then climbed into the vehicle and rode to the police station where the case was begun. The case involved the arrest of a man who had been accused of selling beer in the streets.

ALLEGED WOMAN BURGLAR DESERTED BY RELATIVES

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Jennie Cline, a nurse arrested yesterday as a burglar, was instructed and arraigned in the police court this morning and is now in the city jail. She has been unable to obtain bail. She has denied her confession of yesterday, but professes that she is only waiting to see an attorney before she will be ready to tell all. Her relatives have not been near her and she was indignant because of that fact when interviewed this morning.

"I would not care what was the matter if my own flesh and blood was in trouble, I would go to the rescue," she said, half tearfully. "They haven't been near me not one of them, and here I am in prison. I will wait until I get a lawyer and then I'll talk, but now I am all alone and I don't want to say anything."

ATHLETES MEET IN MOTORDROME PROGRAM VARIED AND DIVERTING

SUTOR (left) and MITZE (right) and HARRY ABLES, players of the big eastern leagues, who are wintering in California and who will help make up a team of all-stars to play against the last year's Oaks at the Motordrome next Sunday and Monday.

Feature of Card Will Be Baseball Game Between the Nationals and Last Year's Oaks

Baseball played by teams composed of American and National League stars and the last year's Oaks, an athletic tournament and exciting motorcycle races will be some of the features to be seen next Sunday and Monday at the Elmhurst Motordrome. Manager Max Friedman announced today that one of the biggest performances seen there during the last few weeks would take place on the date mentioned.

Members of the Nationals are wintering in this vicinity. Through the efforts of Manager Friedman and Tommy Sheehan, formerly with the Oaks, the players have been rounded up, and workmen are already at work preparing a diamond within the arena at the motordrome.

Under the sanction of the Pacific association of the A. U. a field meet has also been arranged. It will be conducted under the auspices of the Olympic club and some of the famous track athletes of the Pacific coast will participate in sprint, long jump, hurdles, races, and discus throwing.

Daring motorcycle riders, who have been seen in previous performances at the motordrome, will be there on both days of the meet, and taken as a whole, the program will be one of the liveliest athletic exhibitions given here for some time. On that occasion the arena will be filled with performers who have appeared before great crowds all over the country. Baseball players from a number of the big teams of the American League will show their prowess with the ball and stick. The line-up for the all-star team will be as follows:

Hal Chase, first base; Eddie Hallinan, second base; Tommy Sheehan, third base; Dick Egan, short-stop; Ping Bodie, left field; H. Heitmueller, center field; Duffy Lewis, right field; Al Byran and Harry Krause, formerly of Detroit, catchers. In addition to these Buck Weaver, Monte Pyl, Eddie Burns and Charlie Swain will be there ready for the game.

In the Oakland line-up will appear:

Sentencing of Lawyer Postponed One Week

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—The sentencing of Attorney Fred Thompson, convicted in the federal court last week of having received $15,000 which had been stolen from the mails, was postponed today until January 3. The delay was granted on account of the illness of J. D. Thompson's attorney, who was stricken while pleading the case of his client in court.

Thompson stated that no attempt would be made to gain further delay. He would "take his medicine," he said, and do his utmost to prevent the trial of his wife, Mrs. E. T. Thompson, who was indicted jointly with her husband and who, Thompson declared, was innocent of any wrong.

STRUCK BY AUTO.
A. T. Shane, a carpenter, residing at 4135 East Seventeenth street, was run down this morning by the automobile of William M. Zambresky of Hayward, who runs a newspaper at San Leandro. Zambresky, who was driving the machine, took Shane to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that his injuries were slight.

OLD TRUST NOW 35 DIFFERENT COMPANIES

Branches of Former Standard Oil Combine Become Individual Entities Today.

Task of Organizing Operating Forces Proves to Be a Gigantic One.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The thirty-five separate companies which formerly composed the Standard Oil Company, took up their work as individual entities today. While the dissolution of the executive department was accomplished on December 1, the gigantic task of organizing operating forces for the separate units of the old oil trust was not completed until last Saturday and this week they begin their strife for business, deprived of all connection with their fond parent.

The task of organizing operating forces for each company was one of the most difficult that confronted the men in charge of the work. In order to accomplish it hundreds of employees have been shifted from one section of the country to another. Under the old combination system it was possible to have the needs of the entire groups of companies looked after in certain territories by a single man or a small number of men. Now each company must have its own officials.

It will take some time to ascertain whether the dissolution plan will bring about the completion the government hopes for. According to independent oil men there has been no change in the general situation thus far.

Mrs. Snead is said to be the wife of a wealthy canal builder of Fort Worth. The couple arrived here three weeks ago and have been living at a fashionable hotel.

GIRLS DEFY THE BAN ON BOXING

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—Boxing among the girls of the Los Angeles high schools was under a ban today but two devotees of the pugilistic pastime, Miss Fern Powell, declared, despite the edict, that they were still infatuated with the sport.

Dr. Everett C. Beach, physical director of the city high schools, said it was not the aim of the instructors to turn out a generation of female fighters and there was no desire to develop unnaturally combative disposition which would interfere with the natural laws of the home. "Suppose a pretty girl's nose was broken while boxing," said Dr. Beach. "It probably would mean disfigurement and might seriously injure her social prospects."

ESCAPES DEATH IN BAY COLLISION

Jumping from the deck of the steamer Napa City to the deck of the ferry boat Ensign, Watchman G. Ellsworth probably missed a watery grave last night after the Napa City had been struck amidships by the ferry boat while the former was being towed into port by the tug Phoenix.

According to Captain William Spoon of the Ensign, when about 500 yards off the San Francisco shore, on the 12:45 trip out of Oakland, the tug gave one whistle, which gave it the right of way, and he, the captain, gave the ferry boat's engineer the reverse, which was misunderstood by Engineer Dan Ellerton who put on full steam ahead and crashed into the Napa City amidships.

PHOTOPLAYS IN HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Spell of the Lyric's Program a Yuletide Attraction

For holiday week there is no place where a pleasanter hour can be passed than making a visit to this homey little photoplay house has a good time and enjoys themselves in the most comfortable and pleasant surroundings. You surely will appreciate a holiday treat that will fill you with wonder and delight, and a pleasant and profitable hour well spent at this charming place of amusement.

"Fires of Driftwood" is a beautiful Christmas story of a sailor's rescue from a watery grave, his downward fall from a beautiful woman who proves to be a "vampire" and his ultimate return to his wife and baby on a Christmas Eve. A sadder and wiser man, receiving his wife's forgiveness and bringing good cheer to her and their child.

Another holiday picture is one of childhood's favorite stories "The Three Bears," a very pretty presentation, each scene of which reveals the particular care which has been taken in its production. It relates how little Goldilocks falling asleep dreams a very strange dream. We remember how the great big bear, the middle sized bear and the teeny weeny bear leave their porridge to cool while they go for a walk, how little Goldilocks wanders through the woods comes upon the cottage and enters. Delighted and eager she finds the porridge and sipping finally she returns to her breakfast. Then, feeling sleepy, she goes into an adjoining room and falls to sleep upon the teeny weeny bear's bed. The middle sized bear and the great big bear discover little Goldilocks, chase her from the house in a very angry mood, but just before she is caught she escapes and her adventure to be only a dream.

An offering of a decided holiday spirit is the representative program for the Lyric theater and to those who have made the yuletide days a distinct and separate part of our lives no diversion from the regular stereotyped program could be more appropriate than the harmonious element abounding at this time of the year than to spend three or four hours (which under the spell of the Lyric's well prepared photoplays.

SONG BIRDS RARE, SAYS CENSUS MAN

Western Feathered Friends Are Dying Out; Causes to Be Determined.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 27.—Western song birds are becoming fewer, according to H. H. Walmley of this city, president of the State Audubon Society, affiliated with the national society, who has just completed the annual bird census for Missouri.

"Fewer of our feathered friends were counted this year than on last Christmas day, which is the time the census is taken," Mr. Walmley said today. "The bird census is a part of the effort on the part of the society to determine how far destruction has gone as well as the cause of it. The arguments and appeals and with field marshals we fight against these causes."

BEEF GROWERS TO TESTIFY.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27.—Two or more representative California sugar-beet growers are wanted to give testimony before the House Sugar Trust Investigation Committee. Representative Baker was authorized by the committee yesterday to secure these witnesses for the hearings in January and he will ask the California growers to select them. The government pays the witnesses' expenses.

SON OF EX-GOVERNOR IS DECLARED INSANE

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 27.—When Malcolm C. Patterson, son of former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson, was shot and wounded at Port Orchard, December 7, he was suffering from "alcoholic epilepsy" or "dipsomania" induced by drinking continuously for five years. This was the finding of the lunacy commission that sat at Port Orchard.

In accordance with the finding the defense asked Judge A. W. Foster issue an order permitting former Governor Patterson to take his son back to Memphis for treatment. This motion was opposed by Prosecutor Thomas Stevenson, who asked for a stay of execution so that he can appeal to the Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition restraining the removal of Patterson from this state until after he stands trial on a charge of assault with intent to kill for shooting Seal.

Judge Foster granted a stay of three days and if the appeal is not perfected at the end of that time Patterson will be released to the custody of his father until $5000 bond is guaranteed that he will not return to this state.

SECRETARY DENISON VISITS SOLANO COUNTY

At a recent visit to Solano county during which he attended the second annual banquet of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, Secretary Denison, of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, was a guest of R. A. Sparks, a former Oaklander, who is a large land holder in that section. Secretary Denison was taken for a motoring ride through the extensive alfalfa fields on the Dixon ridge, which is fast becoming one of the great alfalfa-producing regions of California.

Solano county is one of the most prosperous sections of the state, and Denison, owing to its equable climate, the ability to command abundance of water for irrigation from wells, and the application of electricity to pumping, and other farm industries, diversified farming is becoming general, and the land is being made more largely productive. With the extension of electric roads, the construction of the new state highway and improved facilities for crossing the straits, Alameda and Solano counties will be brought into closer commercial and social relations to their mutual advantage.

HARVEY GOES FREE OF MURDER CHARGE

OREGON CITY, Ore., Dec. 27.—Nathan E. Harvey, arrested for the alleged murder of four members of the family of William Hill last June, was given his preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Samson yesterday and was acquitted after the testimony of seven witnesses had been heard.

At the conclusion of the testimony of the last witness in the proceedings Justice Samson announced that the evidence presented by the state was of such a flimsy character that he, Justice, believed the accused man was forced to set free. In ruling in Harvey's favor Justice Samson severely scored the state for going before the court with the expectation that the accused man would be held on such testimony as was adduced from the state's witnesses.

It was stated last night by Sheriff Mass and the detectives who are assisting the state that the evidence in their possession in connection with the Hill murders will be submitted to the grand jury at a later date.

VATICAN REFUSES FREEDOM TO BONI ORDERED BY BOARD

Count's Marriage With Anna Gould Declared to Be Indissoluble.

ROME, Dec. 27.—The Vatican has declined to grant Count Boni de Castellane an annulment of his marriage with Anna Gould, who is now the Duchess of Talleyrand and Sagan.

Countess de Castellane was granted a divorce from her husband and given the custody of their three children on November 14, 1908.

About a year ago Count Boni appeared to the Vatican for annulment of the marriage.

For several months the congregation of the council had under advisement the process relative to the Archbishop of Paris concerning the case. When Mgr. Amet, archbishop of Paris, came to Rome recently to receive the red hat, he gave the Pope and Cardinal Genardi, prefect of the congregation of the council, all the details in his possession concerning the case.

Count Boni came to Rome on December 20 for the purpose of using all possible influence to attain his object. This he was not opposed by the Duchess of Talleyrand. The decision of the congregation of the council, however, which was summarized as follows:

"A marriage celebrated and consummated, if performed according to the law of the church, as it was in the case of the Countess de Castellane, is indissoluble. There are certain impediments which, if existing before the marriage, can prevent its celebration, or if celebrated after the marriage, render the marriage invalid, in which case the church can proclaim that the union of the parties is null and void. But in the present case, no such impediments have been shown."

Count Boni departed last night for Paris. He expects to return to Rome about the middle of January. It is thought that he will bring forward new points on which to base another application for annulment.

PILLSBURY WOULD BE BROTHER'S EXECUTOR

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—Arthur S. Pillsbury of San Francisco, brother of the late E. S. Pillsbury, filed a bulky bill of exceptions yesterday to the ruling of Judge Rivers appointing the Title Insurance and Trust Company administrator of the deceased man's estate.

Pillsbury alleges that he is the natural guardian of the two children and the administrator of the estate. When word was received that the Pillsbury auto had gone over the Castias Pass canyon on September 3, killing Dr. Pillsbury and his wife, the brother of San Francisco, and according to his statement, devoted an entire month here to attending to the dead man's affairs.

When letters of administration were granted the title company they were much dispute as to whether Dr. Pillsbury or his wife died first. Witnesses testified that the husband died about fifteen minutes before the wife, making the probating of only one will necessary.

MRS. PEDAR BRUGUIERE DODGES PROCESS SERVER

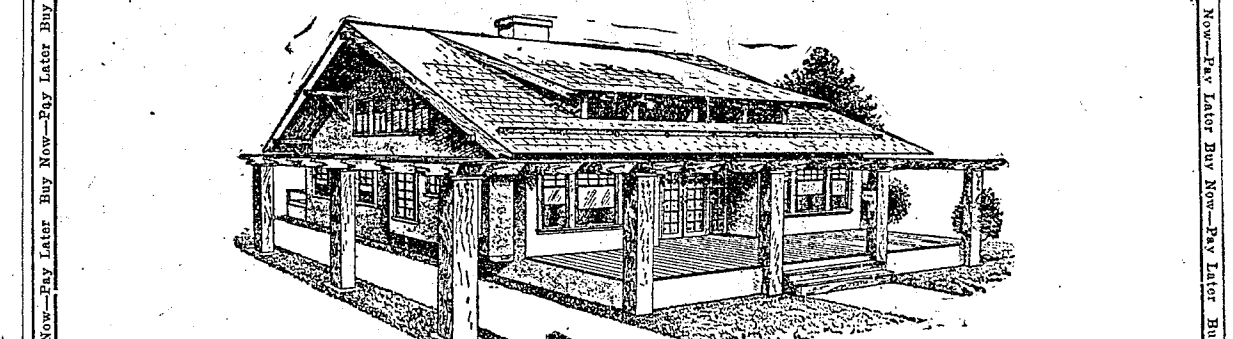

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Harry Kuttner, who has achieved some fame as a process server for a collection agency, by his work in serving papers on women of prominence, admitted yesterday that Mrs. Pedar Bruguiere, the former wife of Dr. P. S. Bruguiere of San Francisco and widely known socially in New York and Newport, was too much for him.

"I have been trying to serve her for the past two weeks," said the persistent Kuttner, who was found outside the Ritz Carlton with a photograph of the beautiful San Francisco woman in his hand.

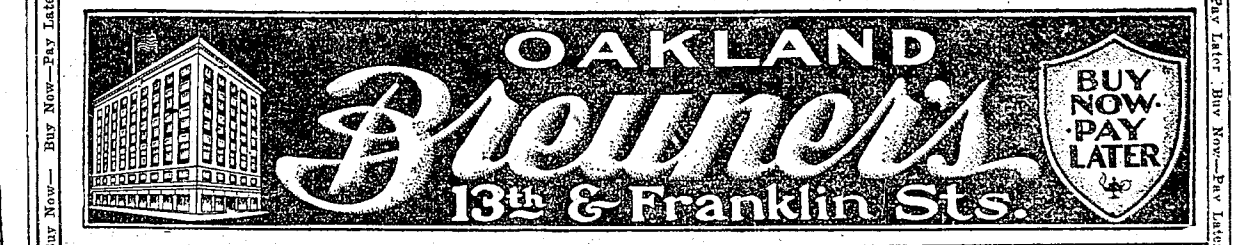

"When I ask for her at the hotel here, they tell me she is out of town. But I'll get her."

Kuttner is trying to serve papers in behalf of a woman's tailor who is seeking to collect $955, and for a Fifth avenue milliner, who wants $155.

ZEITUNG SOLD TO CURRLIN & SON

Transfer of German Newspaper Believed to Be Step to Consolidation.

Max Einheim, who for the last two years has been editor of the German publication, California Zeitung, one of the leading newspapers in Alameda county, has sold his interest therein to Albert Currlin & Son, publishers of the Oakland Journal. The branch editions of the paper for San Francisco and Santa Rosa were also included in the deal.

The California Zeitung was founded eight years ago by the late Henry Feldman, who later went into partnership with W. Baumgart, the latter retiring from the newspaper last year. With the taking over of the paper by the Currlins, it is probable that the two publications will be consolidated after the first of the year. In that event there will be but one German newspaper in Oakland and Alameda county.

In giving his reasons for retiring from the German newspaper field here, Einheim, who is one of the well-known German-American journalists of the coast, stated that in his opinion and experience the field was not large enough. It is a funny proposition," he said.

"The old Germans die and the young generation, reads English. These again, there are not large numbers of German immigrants coming west. They settle in other parts of the country. Here, therefore, the German paper has no real mission and I believe that it will further decline in a very short time."

SCHOOLS REACH HIGHEST AVERAGE

Attendance During Year 1909
Sets Record; 1910 May Be Better.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The highest average of school attendance in the history of the American school system was reached in the year 1909, according to statistics gathered by the United States Bureau of Education. Figures for 1910 are not yet available, but the opinion was expressed today by Dr. E. E. Dresslar, of the bureau that 1910 would show still better results.

Return show, he declared, that the length of the school term increased from 144 days in 1900 to 181 days in 1909, while in the same period the average number of days attended by each pupil rose from 90 to 113. This means that more than half a month has been added to the average length of school terms and in this particular alone, educational effectiveness has been increased during the last decade about 50 per cent.

"In 1900," our figures show," he said, "that the average daily attendance in the public schools was 10,622,772, which was 68.6 per cent of the enrollment. In 1909, the average daily attendance reached 12,684,337, being 72.9 per cent of the number enrolled. These figures seem to warrant the conclusion that the children have attended the public schools more regularly during the last decade than in any previous one of our educational history."

NEVADA RANCHERS FIGHT PISTOL DUEL TO DEATH

RENO, Dec. 27.—A Killabrew, a pioneer rancher of Lovelock, is dead, and William Hubbard, also a rancher, widely known, is not expected to live as a result of a battle fought by the two men near Lovelock.

The shooting was the result of trouble existing between the two men for some time. Hubbard had been employed by Killabrew's divorced wife on an adjoining ranch. A few weeks ago Killabrew accused Hubbard of the theft of a shotgun, and an altercation was barely averted at that time.

Yesterday Killabrew was driving by the ranch where Hubbard had been employed when the latter came out and accosted him. Almost immediately the shooting began. It is charged that Killabrew fired the first shot from a pistol, wounding Hubbard, who fell to the ground. While in a prone position Hubbard discharged the shotgun he was carrying and instantly killed Killabrew.

MINER RESCUED ALIVE FROM VERITABLE GRAVE

GRASS VALLEY, Dec. 27.—After being buried alive for half an hour yesterday, Louis Adge was rescued from a cave of earth and rocks in the Maryland mine, in which he had been working. Adge was at work at the bottom of a stope when a huge mass of earth and rock broke loose from above and fell on him. His comrades believed him to be killed, but went to work with the rescue. After a half hour of frantic work the entombed miner was rescued and is now in a hospital suffering badly from an injured back. It is also feared he is hurt internally.
